MEXICAN REPORTS ALLEGE CARRANZA IS NOW PRISONER

Said by Officials to Have Been Captured, With His Entire Convoy, on Way From Capital City to Vera Cruz—Other Dispatches Leave His Situation Uncertain.

NUMBER OF MEN OF BOTH PARTIES ARE SAID TO HAVE BEEN KILLED

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Mexico's latest revolution, after getting under way with a remarkable absence of fighting, apparently has not been without the usual tropical season of blood-letting.

From behind the veil which obscures events of the last few days are beginning to trickle stories of wholesale political executions, counter-executions and other accompaniments which have marked struggles for supremacy in the Latin-American countries.

Carranza, variously reported captured, in flight or in hiding; Candido Aguilar, his son-in-law and Minister of Foreign Affairs, executed, with General Francisco Murguia, commander of the garrison in Mexico City, after a wholesale slaughter of political prisoners, including fifteen generals; forces of the revolution in control of the capital and most of the metropolitan cities, while American warships and marines continued to move into strategic positions, were the foremost features of today's news.

Communication between the U.S. and Mexico City continued intermittent and uncertain. Reports continued of the cutting of telegraph lines which carry cable dispatches from Vera Cruz to Mexico City, and these are supported by border reports that the line of Carranza's escape is held by the revolutionists. From all reports, Tampico, Vera Cruz, Monterey and Puebla, as well as Mexico City, are held by rebels. Search of Vera Cruz City failed to find Carranza. One report had him under arrest in Esperanza.

The last message received from the American Embassy in Mexico City said quiet prevailed after the departure of Carranza, with no unusual disorders.

"The only untoward incident reported," the statement continued, "was the capture of one of President Carranza's trains, May 7, at Guadalupe Hidalgo, about 375 miles north of Mexico City, an incident in which there were several casualties."

No mention of the fate of Carranza was made by the embassy.

Gen. Obregon, Carranza's former righthand military man, and now his opponent, has ordered that the President, if captured, be treated with consideration and taken to Mexico City.

Reports published in Mexico City newspapers flatly announced Carranza's capture, together with Ambassador Bonillas, "Carranza's representative in Washington until recently, and later a presidential candidate.

Carranza Captured.

EL PASO, Texas, May 10.—Mexico City officially reported to Luis Montes de Oca, "consul" for the revolutionists here, that the entire convoy escorting Carranza from the capital was captured with him near Apisaco.

"Carranza left Mexico City Friday," the bulletin said. "He was accompanied, besides the generals reported killed, by his official family, which included Luis Cabrera, Manuel Aguirre, Berlanga, Ignacio Bonillas, Luis Manuel Rojas, Governor Ruedo Magro, Manuel Lucio Blanco, and others, and to complete the catastrophe of the Carranza regime, he was captured with all his remaining elements at Apizaco.

"Gen. Alvaro Obregon has ordered Carranza returned to the City of Mexico with all consideration, ordering all commanders not to kill or mistreat any one of his company.

"The City of Mexico is quiet.

"Gen. Ramon Iturbe, from Sinaloa, bottled at Manzilan, has joined the Sonora movement, and likewise Gen. de Santiago of Nayarit."

MEXICO CITY, via El Paso Junction and Dallas, Texas, May 10.—Mexico City today was quiet, with water, light and power services in full operation. General Jacinto Trevino, to whom General Fortunato Zinsua surrendered the capital, had been named military commander of the city.

General Obregon told American guests today that he could have taken Mexico City a week earlier, but preferred to wait and give President Carranza a chance to resign and avoid all disorder and bloodshed. Throughout the entire rebel movement he said, there had been virtually no bloodshed and disorder in any part of the country.

FRUIT GROWERS ASK HELP OF SOLDIERS

VANCOUVER, B.C., May 10.—Arrangements were completed at the executive sessions of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, which met in Kamloops last week, for engaging the bulk of the fruit harvesters required this season, through the mediums of the Dominion employment service, Col. Bruce Powley, superintendent of the Provincial Labor Office, stated today upon his return from the meetings.

The farmers expressed satisfaction with the service provided last year, Col. Powley said, and were anxious that the same methods be followed this year to secure help.

Land Settlement Report

VANCOUVER, May 10.—Satisfaction was expressed today by Captain F. C. Brown, superintendent for B.C. of the Soldier Settlement Board, at the new legislation granting more favorable conditions for settlers going on unimproved lands. The legislation is more applicable to this Province than any other, he said, and will enable the board to achieve one of its great objects, that of increasing production of foodstuffs by bringing new land under cultivation.

WOUNDED DOCTOR HAS HARD JOURNEY

QUEBEC, May 10.—H. F. Blake, the well-known Ungava explorer, arrived here Saturday evening, bringing with him Dr. Corbett, of Ottawa, medical man of the expedition, who had been seriously wounded by a gunshot about three weeks previously. The doctor had been in the act of taking a shotgun from the bottom of a canoe when it exploded, its contents lodging in his stomach.

The patient, after his wound had been dressed by Mr. Blake, had to be brought 140 miles to civilization, through dense forests. He was carried on a toboggan over the ice and on the lakes and then by canoe down river. One of the canoes upset, and its occupants were rescued only with difficulty. Provisions and outfits were lost, and the party traveled for two days without food. Finally, 11 miles from the nearest house, two of the party pressed on and reached the little settlement of Riviere Dore, with only enough strength to send help.

The accident occurred at a spot 360 miles north of Quebec City.

GENERAL CURRIE MAY HEAD McGILL

MONTREAL, May 10.—The governors of McGill University held an important meeting this morning to decide upon the appointment of a new principal for the college. While no information was given out at the conclusion of the meeting, it was currently reported, without official denial or assertion, that the man to fill Sir William Peterson's place will be General Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian army in France.

It is understood that General Currie has tentatively accepted the appointment. A further meeting of the board will be held Wednesday when an official statement will be issued.

Australian Wool Policy

SYDNEY, N.S.W., May 10.—Premier William Hughes has submitted to the Central Wool Committee a statement providing that the 1920 Australian wool clip shall not be exported prior to October, 1920, and that there shall be no auction sales of Australian wool in London from September, 1920, to May, 1921. He also has proposed that there shall be no auction sales in Australia until next October.

HOME RULE BILL IS NOT AMENDED

Mr. Asquith's Proposal for One Parliament, and an Amendment for One Revising Senate Are Voted Down

LONDON, May 10.—An amendment to the Government's Irish Home Rule Bill offered by Mr. Asquith, providing one Parliament instead of two in Ireland, was defeated in the House of Commons this evening, after a short debate by a vote of 359 to 55.

Parliament having rejected Mr. Asquith's amendment proposing a single parliament for Ireland, and thereby affirming the principle of partition which the Liberals and Laborites regard as against their principles, those parties are not likely to take organized steps to get the bill further amended, as they consider further discussion a mere waste of time.

Individual amendments may be proposed, and Mr. Asquith is credited with a disposition to fight the bill throughout, but its passage through committee virtually unamended is expected now, as the Nationalists are taking no part in the debate.

The House discussed an amendment seeking to create a senate for the whole of Ireland as a revising member for both parliaments. This amendment however, was rejected by a vote of 209 to 59.

STRONGLY URGE SHIPBUILDING

Members of Deputation Waiting on Government at Ottawa Ask Continuation of Programme

MINISTERS REPLY IN FAVORABLE TONE

Hon. C. C. Ballantyne Expresses Hope for Further Construction — Sir George Foster Sympathetic

OTTAWA, May 10.—Asking that the Government continue with a substantial shipbuilding programme, in order that as much work as possible be found for the men now employed in the various yards throughout the Dominion, a deputation of returned soldier workers, over 100 strong, waited upon Sir George Foster and members of his cabinet today.

In a memorandum submitted by the deputation it was said that the French Government was willing, if Canada would provide the credit, to place orders for merchant marine vessels which would keep the Canadian yards at high pressure for two or three years. The men also advocated extension of the merchant marine and the granting of Government subsidies to private enterprise which was willing to build this year.

Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Naval Affairs, assured the deputation that their requests would receive the very earnest consideration of the Government, which, indeed, already had these matters under advisement, and he hoped the result would be that building of ships in Canadian yards would be continued and the men employed in those yards would continue to receive employment at wages as good as they were receiving.

Sir George Foster pointed out that the Government always was glad to have the views of different sections of the country placed before it. They had heard the case of the deputation, and he assured his hearers he would give it every consideration.

If it was found impossible to go quite the length requested, he reminded them that the Government of Canada must be guided by world conditions as well as those at home, and that very few governments today were able to carry out one-half of the reconstruction work they wished to do.

Sir George urged that instead of assisting other countries to build up a merchant marine, it was the duty of the Government to build ships in Canada for Canada and for the expansion of Canada's trade, which expansion, he said, was about to grow to a considerable extent. It was for Parliament to decide between the subsidy and the credit method of assisting the industry and the balance seemed to be in favor of the former.

AMOUNT PAID OUT FOR SOLDIER RELIEF

OTTAWA, May 10.—About $5,500,000 has been spent to date out of appropriations voted in the House last session of the $40,000,000 for the relief of returned soldiers, it was said by the Minister of the Interior today in answer to a question by George Boyce, of Carleton. Advances made to the respective Provinces on this accruement up to April 24 last are as follows:

Alberta, $1,065,000; British Columbia, $970,000; Manitoba, $325,000; New Brunswick, $87,175.67; Nova Scotia, $200,000; Ontario, $1,255,982.21; Quebec, $1,242,577.68; Prince Edward Island, $22,800; Saskatchewan, $450,000; the Yukon, $10,000. Total, $5,691,535.56

CONSERVATIVES TO REORGANIZE

Steps to That End Taken at Meeting of Provincial Delegations Held in Toronto—National Convention

TORONTO, May 10.—"That in the opinion of this conference of Dominion-wide Liberal-Conservatives, the time has arrived to perfect an organization for all the provinces of Canada, and through such an organization prepare those who believe in the traditional policy of Macdonald and Cartier, to register their opinion at the impending general election of that great policy."

Such was the substance of a resolution unanimously adopted at a round table conference here today of Liberal-Conservatives, when at least three delegates were present from every province under the guiding leadership of Hon. Robert Rogers. This conference arose from a meeting held here on April 16, and is the first move toward Dominion organization on strict party lines, to be followed as early as possible this year by a "national Conservative convention" in Ottawa, "for the purpose of selecting a leader and dealing with such matters as war property came before the convention."

Although the meeting was private, it was stated afterward that the proceedings had been entirely harmonious and some dozen resolutions were handed to the press as having been adopted unanimously.

CANADA WILL HAVE ITS OWN MINISTER AT U. S. CAPITAL

Official Announcement Made at Ottawa by Acting Premier and at Washington Through British Embassy—Representative to Be Appointed on Advice of Cabinet

WILL BE ENDOWED WITH FULL POWERS

To Have Charge of Embassy in Absence of British Ambassador—Appointment Not Likely to Be Made for Few Weeks—Liberal Leader Says Parliament Is Slighted

OTTAWA, May 10.—Correspondence between the British Government and the Canadian Government, it is understood, has not yet touched on the actual Canadian nominee for the position of Canadian Minister in Washington. Nor is it likely that the appointment will be made for a few weeks at any rate. A number of names, however, are the subject of gossip in political circles. Among them is that of Sir Robert Borden, who, it is thought, might accept the position should he decide to retire from active political life. When the appointment of a Canadian representative in Washington was mooted some 18 months or so ago, the name of Sir George Foster was prominently mentioned, as, later, was that of Hon. N. W. Rowell. Mr. Rowell, however, intimated that he would not accept the appointment. Other names mentioned are those of Sir Charles Gordon, who headed the Canadian mission in Washington, and C. A. Magrath, former Fuel Controller.

The Canadian Minister will be appointed by the King, on the advice of the Cabinet in Ottawa. He will be directly accredited to the President of the United States, and therefore will not be subordinate in his functions to the British Ambassador. On questions purely affecting the relations between the United States, he will directly represent Canada; on questions of imperial concern he will act in conjunction with the British Ambassador.

Exactly what the precise rank of the Canadian Minister will be has still to be determined. A minister ranks one degree lower in the diplomatic service than a full-fledged ambassador. But how the Canadian Minister will rank with ministers accredited to Washington from such countries as Chile, for instance, is a point now for consideration by the State Department in Washington.

LONDON, May 10.—Informing the House of Commons today of the decision to appoint a Canadian Minister to the United States, Mr. Bonar Law added that in the absence of the British Ambassador the Canadian Minister would take charge of the whole embassy as the representative of the Imperial Government.

Official Statement

OTTAWA, May 10. — Sir George Foster in the House this afternoon read an official statement with regard to the appointment of a Canadian Minister at Washington.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King: "I just wished to ask if the Government will undertake to see that the correspondence is tabled at the earliest possible moment. My purpose in speaking is not to refer to this far-reaching and important step the Government is taking, but rather to express some surprise that Parliament has not been acquainted with the correspondence in reference to this matter before the whole transaction was finally concluded by the Government. As I understand the announcement which Sir George has just made, it is to the effect that the whole transaction is finally settled between the British Government and the United States government, and this Parliament has had no opportunity of giving any consideration to the question in its far-reaching inter-Imperial and international relations. I think that that is not a course which the Government should have taken. Parliament should have been fully apprised in all essential matters before the Government came to any decision."

Sir George Foster replied that he did not propose at this stage to enter into any discussion of the point raised in the latter part of Mr. King's remarks. All available papers would be brought down as speedily as possible.

Announced in Washington

WASHINGTON, May 10.—A Canadian Minister to the United States will be appointed, it was announced today at the request of the British Government to place the Canadian relations with the United States completely in the hands of Canada. It was made today in a statement read in the Canadian Parliament at Ottawa, by direction of Governor-General and the British Parliament in London and made public here through the British Embassy.

Unusual powers are to be conferred upon the Canadian Minister, in the absence of the British Ambassador he will take full charge of all British diplomatic relations with the United States.

Accommodations for the Minister will be found in the present embassy building here for purely official purposes.

Whether the United States shall be represented at Ottawa by a minister under the new order will have to be decided soon. Congress alone has the power to create new legations and embassies. It is understood, however, that the British Government has been acting with the view that diplomatic exchanges with Canada beyond those had directly with the resident Canadian Minister, will be entrusted to the United States Consul-General at Ottawa.

COUNCIL DECREES BREAK WITH UNION

While B. C. Municipalities Engage Mr. McDiarmid as Solicitor Victoria Will "Absent Itself"

Victoria last night broke off relations with the Union of British Columbia Municipalities. By a vote of 7 to 4, the City Council adopted a resolution submitted by Ald. W. J. Sargent, protesting against the retention of Mr. F. A. McDiarmid as union solicitor, and declaring that "while such conditions obtain this Council is of the opinion Victoria should absent itself from activities of the union."

The vote was really more emphatic than that. The four aldermen who opposed the Sargent resolution were in favor of withdrawing from the union; the only difference was that they offered another pretext. Those who sup-

Secretary Daniels Gives His Answer

Vigorously Attacks Rear-Admiral Sims in Statement Before Senate Investigating Committee—Accuses Him of Being Eager to Secure Honors From Foreigners

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Secretary Daniels launched a vigorous counter-offensive against Rear Admiral Sims today when he appeared before the Senate investigation committee to answer charges made by the officer against the Navy Department's conduct of the war. Sweeping criticism of Admiral Sims occupied Mr. Daniels most of the day, the time being devoted to reading a carefully prepared statement. His attack came as a preface of the Sims charges of failure and lack of co-operation, and he charged the Admiral with pro-British idiosyncracies, violation of the naval regulations and criticism of the "self-sacrificing and successful efforts" of his fellow-officers.

So far as he dealt today with Admiral Sims' charges that delay by the department had prolonged the war unnecessarily, Secretary Daniels declared the navy's war record stood "untouched today, and for all time, regardless of criticism."

"As for the American navy's part in the great war," he said, "there are no two opinions at home or abroad."

"The most serious charges made by Admiral Sims are without foundation, and the others are unjustified. Upon his assumption of what he calls errors and a small foundation of facts, Admiral Sims has erected a towering structure of exaggeration and misrepresentation."

Looking for Honors

The Admiral, Mr. Daniels said, declined to accept the King of England's decree that he become an honorary member of the British Admiralty, and "wrote complimentary" when the department declined to allow him to accept. Sims coveted foreign decorations, and apparently placed more value on them than on honors his own Government could bestow, Mr. Daniels declared, and as public speeches minimized the U.S. part in the war and gave a maximum of credit to the British.

Mr. Daniels said he had always regarded the Admiral's desire for British honors as a "love of glitter and foreign decorations," although he disapproved of it.

Admiral Sims did not wholly measure up to expectations during the war, Mr. Daniels said. He enumerated six points, including charges that the officer placed too great stress on the importance of protection of cargo vessels and had failed to appreciate that the protection of American soldiers en route to France was the navy's paramount mission. The Secretary also said Admiral Sims had lacked vision to appreciate the Navy Department's North Sea mine barrage to bottle up the German submarines. Finally Admiral Mayo had to be sent abroad to obtain the British Admiralty's co-operation in the plans, Mr. Daniels asserted.

Secretary Daniels scored Admiral Sims for having made public his letter entitled "Some Naval Lessons of the World War," which brought about the investigation. The letter should never have been made public until the general board had passed on it, he said, adding that Admiral Sims "could not have chosen a more ostentatious and well-planned manner of securing publicity."

Transport of Army

The fact that not one life was lost in transporting the army to France, was "an answer to most of the criticisms heard by the committee," Mr. Daniels declared, and added that had he known facts developed during the investigation, he would not have recommended Sims to Congress for a life commission as a full admiral.

Referring to the Sims charges that delays by the Navy Department prolonged the war four months and cost 500,000 lives, Mr. Daniels declared he had talked with many British admirals, and not one would subscribe to the charge.

Admiral Sims' statement that just prior to sailing for London he received the explicit admonition "don't let the British pull the wool over your eyes; we would as soon fight them as the Germans," received considerable consideration from the Secretary.

If the Admiral considered the words as an "explicit admonition" he violated three sections of naval regulations in making them public, Mr. Daniels declared.

Admiral Sims' criticism that Admiral Benson, former chief of naval operations, was anti-British, was unfounded and unjust, the witness said.

Battle on Franchise Has Grown Strenuous

Opposition Members Strongly Oppose Government's Proposals Regarding Alien Women—Effort Made on Behalf of Enemy Aliens Resident Before 1914

OTTAWA, May 11.—The battle on the franchise commenced in earnest in the House yesterday. It was over the section regarding enfranchisement of alien women naturalised by marriage, and there was a night of front bench attack from the Opposition and Progressives.

When the bill was last discussed, W. D. Euler, of North Waterloo, moved that the whole section be deleted.

Under the section, it was claimed that negresses would be enfranchised and an educated Frenchwoman married to a British subject would be denied the right to vote.

"It is this sort of thing," declared Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition, "this promising with one hand and denying British justice with the other—that is breeding unrest and distrust throughout the country."

"It is discriminatory," added Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the Progressives. "and you cannot have discrimination in the franchise and keep the honor of the country clear."

To the criticism, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Solicitor-General, replied that the clause was not discriminatory. It was not a disfranchising clause, but an enabling clause with certain restrictions. The Farmer government of Ontario had taken the section, line by line, and placed it in their statute.

The Euler amendment was lost by 79 to 68, a Government majority of 11. Major Andrews was the only crossbencher voting with the Government.

Naturalization Question

An amendment proposed by the Solicitor-General to give the vote to women of alien enemy birth naturalized by marriage, was carried.

Fred Pardee, Lambton West, had an amendment to modify the effect of the Naturalization Act so far as the right to vote is concerned. Under that act, an enemy alien, not already naturalized, cannot secure a naturalization certificate for 10 years after the proclamation of peace. Mr. Pardee's amendment would enable such aliens, resident in Canada prior to 1914, to secure certificates for the purpose of enfranchisement, provided they have the other necessary qualifications for an elector.

Mr. Pardee, in moving his amendment, said it was time the war spirit was dropped and an attempt made to join all people into one great body of Canadians. Hon. Hugh Guthrie said the amendment was in effect an amendment to the Naturalization Act, and refused to accept it.

Hon. N. W. Rowell, replying to Mr. Pardee, claimed that the Drury Act was much more drastic in its requirements for voters than the bill now being discussed.

Hon. W. S. Fielding supported the Pardee amendment, because it would remove a grievance caused by the ten-year clause in the Naturalization Act, which members of the Government admitted should be remedied as far as voting was concerned.

Hon. Arthur Meighen said the Liberals were interested in these people chiefly because they expected to get their votes. They would give them the vote without having any call on them. Compulsory military service could not be applied to men, even though they voted, if they were not naturalized. The War Times Election Act gave the franchise only to British subjects. Now the opposition was becoming solicitous as to German and Austrian deportees and others, who were not entitled to vote.

Hasty Debating

There was much cross-fire while Mr. Meighen was speaking, and the chairman had to many times resort to call for order. The vote, taken at 12:30 o'clock, went, 78 to 44 in favor of the Government.

Messrs Caldwell and Kennedy of the Progressives, were with the Opposition, while Mr. Sinclair voted with the Government.

The clause as amended by Mr. Guthrie was carried half an hour later. Adjournment took place at 1:45 o'clock.

Earlier in the day, the bill to amend the Lemieux Act—which provoked keen discussion when last before the House—went through committee stage of a vote of 88 to 76. Three cross-benchers, Angus McDonald, Temiskaming; Major Andrews, Centre Winnipeg, and Thomas MacNutt, Saskatoon, voted with the Government. J. F. Johnston, Last Mountain, the only other cross-bencher present, voted with the Opposition. Prior to being reported, the bill was so amended as to provide that the majority of workers in a dispute, whether organized or not, can request the appointment of a conciliation board.

COMBINED ARMIES MARCH INTO KIEV

Poles and Ukrainians Overcome Resistance of Bolsheviki After Stiff Fighting—Difficulties of Advance

WARSAW, May 10.—Ukrainian infantry joined the Poles in occupying Kiev in force late on Saturday.

Polish cavalry entered the city of Kiev on Saturday morning on the heels of the retreating Bolsheviki. The city has been evacuated by the Bolsheviki. The Polish infantry kept up its advance toward Kiev, cavalry detachments keeping in contact with the infantry forces. Kiev was entered by the cavalrymen from the west.

The stiffest fighting engaged in by the Poles before they reached the outskirts of Kiev was along the Irpen River, just west of that city. The Bolsheviki, well entrenched, defended the strip between the Irpen and the Dnieper until they were literally blasted from their positions. The Poles first crossed the Irpen northwest of Kiev early on Saturday, after a three-day fight before the city's gates. Soon afterward the passage of the river was effected in force at various points over emergency bridges, some of which were built under the fire of the Bolsheviki machine guns. The Malin-Kiev railroad bridge across the Irpen was destroyed by the retreating enemy, but is being repaired by soldiers aided by the local population.

For two days the struggle was for the most part an infantry battle. By the end of that time, however, the retreating defenders had recovered sufficiently from their confusion to bring up artillery and put it into play. Meanwhile the Poles also had brought up guns, but the progress of the artillery to the battlefront was much hampered by the rough country, dynamited bridges and various obstacles placed by the Bolsheviki to handicap the advancing Poles.

It was early on Friday that the Soviet troops began gradually to give way before the Polish cannon fire on all sides. The defenders fell back upon Kiev, where the only available crossing of the Dnieper was to be found. Modern armored trains from the south on Polish side aided the infantry in their fight for the ancient Russian capital, but the advance along the road from Fastova was made under the greatest difficulties because of the railroad being under fire from the Bolsheviki guns in their positions against the chain of hills encircling Kiev.

Armored trains were brought up by way of Malinn also, and these will move into Kiev as soon as the bridge way of Matlin also, and these will stand by with the reinforcements to be sent into the city.

VETERANS CALL FOR PENSION INCREASE

VANCOUVER, May 10.—With a ringing "Aye" from 5,000 lusty throats, the war veterans of Vancouver on Sunday afternoon shouted their united demand for pension increases and a more thorough re-establishment programme. Gathered in the open air near the pavilion in Stanley Park, they listened to the appeal from their leaders for united action, and then in their vigorous endorsation of two strongly worded resolutions demonstrated that the appeal was not in vain.

Addresses were given by Mayor Gale, and by the presidents of five of the eleven associations of veterans represented in the newly-formed Soldiers' United Service Council, at whose call the veterans and their wives, the widows of the fallen and hundreds of citizens assembled to express their determination to sink differences and work together for the common good.

BISHOP FALLON TALKS ON DIVORCE COURTS

LONDON, Ont., May 10.—Declaring that the moral uplifters of Ontario are horrified if a man takes another drink, but satisfied if he takes another wife, Bishop M. G. Fallon, of the Roman Catholic diocese of London, vigorously attacked the impending enactment of legislation for divorce.

"I would rather have a thousand drunkards than one divorced man," said His Lordship. "The uplifters tell you you will go to Hell if you buy a newspaper on Sunday, but you may have Mrs. —— on Monday, and a different Mrs. —— on Thursday.

"What is the taking of a drink, or the smoking of a cigarette, or attending a horse race, to the breaking up of a Christian home?"

"The people," he said, "now have the spectacle of divorce laws being enacted for Ontario, which has not asked for them, and of divorce courts being inflicted on Prince Edward Island, where the people have expressed themselves against the change."

GOVERNMENT FAILS TO MEET PROPAGANDA

LONDON, May 10.—Sir Edward Carson writes to The Morning Post the following:

"I have had hundreds of letters from America complaining of the folly of the British Government in making no effort to counteract anti-British propaganda carried on there on a huge and systematic scale. New York is the headquarters of this propaganda, which is creating ill-will and anti-British feeling, not only in America but in India and Egypt. Yet the British Government is apparently convinced that a policy of taciturnity is the most dignified and efficient one."

SINN FEIN BANDS BURN BARRACKS

Garrison at Cloyne Overcome—Raiders Finally Repelled in South Armagh Attack—Detective Shot at Dublin

DUBLIN, May 10.—The authorities are continuing the policy of shutting down the small police barracks in the rural districts and sending the men to the larger centres. Two organized attacks occurred at small barracks Saturday night. At Cloyne, County Cork, the small garrison of seven, after a prolonged fight, was compelled to surrender, one of the men being wounded.

The other was more serious. It took place at the village of Newtown Hamilton, South Armagh, where 300 Sinn Feiners attacked the barracks garrisoned by five men. The fight lasted two and a half hours. The building was sprinkled with petrol and burned, driving the garrison into an outhouse, where the men continued their gallant defence. The raiders ultimately retired.

Eule Redmond, one of the hunger strikers recently released from the Mount Joy prison, died in the hospital here this morning. He had undergone an operation for appendicitis.

A sergeant-detective named Revelle was shot and seriously wounded Saturday morning on Phibsborough Road, a business thoroughfare, while on his way to report for duty at Dublin Castle.

Two men shot the detective from behind and escaped.

Revelle wore a steel breastplate under his waistcoat, but the bullets struck unprotected parts of his body.

LONDON, May 10.—Forty-five Irish prisoners were released from the Wormwood Scrubs Prison yesterday.

CORK, May 10.—The last remaining two hunger strikers in the Cork Prison were released yesterday.

CANADA'S IMPORTS HAVE INCREASED

Volume From Great Britain Is in Greater Ratio Than That From U.S.—Exports Show Decrease for Year

OTTAWA, May 10.—Canada's imports for consumption during the 12 months ended March, 1920, and upon which duty had to be paid, show an approximate increase of $163,000,000 in value over the previous 12 months. For the year just ended, the total was $693,663,211, as against $526,-475,717 for the previous year, and $542,319,623 for the fiscal year of 1918.

Free goods in the last year totalled $370,873,958, or a total of imported goods for consumption of $1,064,536,-169.

Total exports of merchandise went to $1,286,656,709, of which $1,239,-492,098 is classed as Canadian and $47,164,611 as foreign. This does not, however, reach the 1918 total export, which was valued at $1,586,-169,792. A noteworthy fact, however, is that while exports to the United Kingdom are still falling away, those to the United States are still largely on the increase. Imports, however, from the Old Land continue to show a marked increase over those coming from across the line. Figures show 40 per cent increase in imports from Great Britain over 1918, while from the United States the increase is less than 3 per cent.

Articles for the army and navy imported during the fiscal year of 1918 totalled more than $130,000,000 in value, while for the year just ended, the aggregate was a little more than $1,500,000.

VILLA GIVES UP ROLE OF BANDIT

Lays Down Arms and Sends Followers to Join Revolutionary Forces—More Carranza Garrisons Change Allegiance

JUAREZ, Mex., May 10.—Francisco Villa's days of banditry and constant menace to all attempts to establish stable government in Mexico and to the relations between this republic and the United States are ended, according to reports reaching here. Leaders of the new revolution displayed visible relief at the announcement that Villa had laid down his arms and turned his men over to General Ignacio Enriquez, revolutionary commander of the Chihuahua district. Since the revolution swept out of Sonora with increasing momentum it was reported that Villa would seek to remain neutral and settle down on a plantation, and still later that his proffered services to the revolution had been declined. Agents of the new regime admitted that if Villa decided to oppose it he would constitute the greatest menace to it.

The announcement that Villa had laid down his arms and guided his followers into the ranks of the revolutionists came from General J. G. Escobar, commander of Juarez. Villa also notified the Mexican Central Railway, Escobar said, that guards of soldiers no longer would be necessary on trains.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., May 10.—The evacuation of Monterey, capital of the state of Nuevo Leon, by Carranza forces, was reported in unofficial dispatches here today. McALEEN, Tex., May 10.—The Carranza garrison at Reynosa, state of Tamaulipas, and across the border from Hidalgo, Texas, has revolted and joined the revolutionists, according to unofficial advices received here.

HOUSTON, Tex., May 10.—Tampico, the important oil town on the Gulf of Mexico, capitulated to forces of General Obregon yesterday, according to wireless advices received by local oil interests here early this morning. The advices said the town went over to the revolutionists without serious disorder.

RUSSIAN PIRATES HOLD UP VESSEL

Rob Passengers on French Packet at Batum—Wife of Colonel Haskell Among Those on Board

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 9.—Pirates held up the French packet Souirah, which left Batum May 6 en route to Marseilles, and after robbing the passengers of the steamer went ashore in boats which they compelled members of the crew to man.

Among those on board the vessel were Mrs. Haskell, wife of Colonel William Haskell, director general of American relief in the Near East, and Mrs. Daly and Mrs. Booth, whose husbands are connected with relief work in Armenia. They were fleeing before the Bolshevik advance, and were forced to give up their valuables.

The pirates boarded the steamer at Batum, either as passengers or members of the crew. On the night of May 6, fifteen men sprang from various parts of the ship, covered officers and passengers with pistols, and shouted warnings that they would kill any who opposed them.

A French destroyer took the American women aboard and later transferred them to the American destroyer Cole, which arrived here today.

The plan for the robbery of the Souirah had apparently been worked out in the greatest detail and was skilfully executed. The pirates were careful to keep control of the wireless apparatus in the steamer, preventing the Allied warships from being advised of what was going on. Meanwhile the pirate crew forced the steamer to take a route along which a steam launch awaited them.

The surprise was sprung while the majority of the passengers were still in the dining saloon. Mrs. Haskell, Mrs. Daly and Mrs. Booth were in their cabins, which the pirates searched repeatedly. Mrs. Haskell saved $20,000 in a money belt by throwing it into a waste paper receptacle, but she was robbed of money and jewels worth $2,000.

The American women say the men who robbed them wore black masks and were apparently Russians. One pirate wore a tweed knickerbocker suit and carried binoculars over his shoulder like a seasoned globe trotter. The band carried grain sacks into which they threw the loot.

The steamer was crowded with refugees, most of whom had converted their property into money to avoid confiscation by the Bolsheviki.

LOCOMOTIVE CARRIES TWO MEN TO DEATH

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 10.—The locomotive of a way freight train on the Canadian National Railway (Canada Eastern division) plunged into the Nashwaak River off what is known as the Penniac Bridge, two miles north of Marysville, early this morning, and dragged the tender and one freight car into the river with it. The engineer, J. Gillis, is dead, and his body is in the river; Clifford Hughes, fireman, was badly but not fatally scalded; and John Estabrooke, brakeman, was pinned under the tender.

Following a heavy rain on Sunday, a dam on the Nashwaak River, owned by the Nashwaak Pulp & Paper Company, gave way and the rush of logs thus released tore away the embankment so that when the train came along the locomotive, tender and one freight car rolled down the embankment of almost 50 feet into the river.

Traffic on the Canadian Eastern division is tied up.

About 9:30 o'clock Estabrooke died before the tender could be raised because of the other wreckage piled up on it, and it was only by cutting off his leg below the knee that his body could be rescued from the water. Several doctors who were in attendance had declined to accede to Estabrooke's wish that his leg be amputated before he died, but continued administering restoratives to him in the hope of keeping him alive until the wrecking crew were able to move the tender under which he was pinned.

Gillis' body was found under the boiler of the engine, but cannot be removed until the wrecking crew are able to move the engine. Gillis was married and resided in this city, but had no children.

QUEBEC MAN GETS RESULTS FROM DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Mr. H. Dinelle Suffered from a Complication of Kidney Troubles and Tells How Dodd's Kidney Pills Helped Him.

Cheneville, Que., May 10. (Special.)—"I suffered for eight years from diabetes, neuralgia of the heart and rheumatism.

"A year ago I commenced to take Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"My health is very much improved."

In these three concise sentences Mr. Hyacinthe Dinelle, a well-known and highly respected resident here, tells why he recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Dinelle is still using Dodd's Kidney Pills. He believes that his troubles are caused by sick kidneys and that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the remedy he needs.

Sick kidneys are the cause of many serious diseases. When the kidneys are not right they fail to do their full work of straining all the impurities, all the seeds of disease, out of the blood. There can be no pure blood if the kidneys are wrong. There can be no good health unless the blood is pure.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the sovereign remedy for sick kidneys.

BOARD RAISES PRICE OF WHEAT

Prairie Grain Placed on Basis of $3.15 Per Bushel in Store at Lake Elevators—Flour Price Raised in Vancouver

WINNIPEG, May 10.—The Canadian Wheat Board has issued the following orders, effective from May 8:

"The price of wheat grown in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, sold locally from country elevators in the said provinces, for use as seed or feed, shall be $3.15 a bushel, basis No. 1 Northern, in store public terminal elevators, Fort William and Port Arthur, and licencees of the board selling such wheat shall pay to the board the sum of $1 a bushel for each bushel of wheat sold.

"No mixed grains containing wheat, grown in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, shall be exported out of Canada without a licence or permit of the board.

"No mixed grains containing wheat shall be imported into Canada without a licence or permit of the board.

"Each mill licencee who grists wheat for farmers or other owners thereof and returns to such owners the whole of the actual product of such wheat shall not be required to issue participation certificates or to remit to the board the $1 a bushel on such wheat, provided, however, that each mill licencee must furnish weekly statement showing farmer's name or other owner of wheat gristed, quantity of wheat gristed, and quantity of flour, offal or other product returned to the owner of the wheat gristed."

CITY TO IGNORE NEW SOURCES OF INCOME

Although It Passes No Resolution, Attitude of Council Is Clear—Views Whole Scheme With Contempt

The City Council regards Hon. John Hart's suggestions of new sources of income with such contempt that it will not give the Government the satisfaction of knowing whether or not it accepts them. It will ignore the whole proposition; which is another way of saying that neither the increased amusement taxes nor the poll tax, as outlined in the budget speech of the Finance Minister, will be imposed in Victoria.

Mayor Porter, at the close of last night's Council meeting, suggested that a decision should be reached as to whether the taxation plans should be adopted or rejected. He proposed calling a special meeting later in the week to determine the Council's policy.

"Discuss it now; it won't take long to pass judgment," said Ald. George Sangster.

"It would be just as well to have something to tell the Government," said the Mayor. "It might weaken our case next year if we had to admit to the Government that we had never even considered the amusement and poll taxes as a means out of the difficulty."

Several of the aldermen reached for their coats and hats and moved towards the door. "The whole thing's a farce," remarked Ald. Johns.

"I move we adjourn," someone said. The motion was adopted without opposition.

ALBERTA LIQUOR MEN GET TIME EXTENSION

CALGARY, May 10.—The wholesale liquor warehouses in Alberta that were to have been closed Monday have received an extension of 12 days in order to get rid of their stocks according to a statement today by Charles Bell, of the Charles Bell Liquors, Ltd. This extension, he said, had been granted by the Attorney-General's Department.

It is said there are stocks valued approximately at one and a quarter million dollars in Calgary alone.

It was stated that the liquor would have to be shipped out of the Province, probably to British Columbia or Saskatchewan. Failing this, it would likely be stored in Provincial bonded warehouses.

Greek Plotters Sentenced

ATHENS, May 10.—General Librilis, Colonels Derieres and Karapateas and Captain Kanabouvos, leaders in the plot against the life of Premier Venizelos, last December, have been sentenced to life imprisonment by a court-martial. Fifteen other officers received sentences of from 15 to 20 years in prison, and 24 suspected of complicity in the plot, were acquitted.

ADMITS MURDER OF NINE WOMEN

Crimes of James P. Watson, Alias Dan Holden, Who Yesterday Was Sentenced to Imprisonment for Life

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—A total of nine murders of his "wives" had been confessed tonight by the man who, today, under the name of James P. Watson, was sentenced to serve a life term in San Quentin prison for the slaying of Nina Lee Deloney.

In making that statement Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney, expressed the opinion that the prisoner had laid bare all of the murders he was alleged to have committed.

No additional information was obtainable on bigamous marriages charged to the confessed murderer, but officials declared the number was in excess of twenty. Three of the alleged wife murders became known today. They were the slayings of Mrs. W. A. Watt, Winnipeg, Marie Austin and Eleanor Fraser, both of Calgary. The first two were drowned in Lake Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and the latter in the Spokane River, Wash., it was said.

In addition the man asserted his true name was Dan Holden and that he had been born and reared in Arkansas and was of a "respectable" family.

The nine murders to which the district attorney stated Watson, or Holden, had confessed, were:

Nina Lee Deloney, of Eureka, Mont. Married at San Francisco, December 9, 1919; struck on the head with a hammer and smothered in a blanket at Signal Hill, near Long Beach, Los Angeles County, January 26, 1920.

Elizabeth Prior, of Wallace, Idaho. Married March 25, 1919, at Coeur d'Alene, skull crushed with a sledge hammer and body buried near Plum Station, Wash., where it was found.

Alice M. Mudgison, of Seattle. Married at Port Townsend, Wash., October 6, 1917; drowned under heavy logs in the St. Joe River, Idaho.

Bertha A. Goodnich, of Spokane, Wash. Married at North Yakima, Wash., June 11, 1919; drowned in Lake Washington, Seattle.

Agnes Wilson, of Edmonton, Alberta. Married at Vancouver, September 20, 1918; drowned in Lake Washington.

Beatrice Andrewartha, of Rossland, B. C. Married at Tacoma, February 10, 1918; drowned in Lake Washington.

Eleanor Fraser, of Calgary, Alta. Married in Seattle, 1919; thrown into the Spokane River, near Spokane, Wash., believed by the murderer to have been carried over the falls and crushed on the rocks below.

Marie Austin, of Calgary, Alta.; beaten with a rock and drowned in Lake Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

Mrs. M. A. Watt, box 793, Winnipeg, Manitoba; drowned in Lake Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

TORONTO, May 10.—M. M. McBride, M.L.A. for South Brant, has issued a statement in which he criticizes the U. F. O. Government for its refusal to increase the members' indemnity as requested in a recent round-robin, characterizes Premier Drury as a dictator, and refers to Andrew Hicks, member for South Huron and U. F. O. whip, as having given to Ontario public life the best example of hypocrisy, paraded under the guise of sincerity, that ever has come to his notice.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully if you want to keep your hair looking its best. The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

TAX SALE CONSIDERATIONS.

The City Council should have a statement prepared for publicity purposes showing what payments it will be necessary for delinquent property owners to make to escape the consequences of the tax sale which is tentatively fixed to be held on October 5 next. There is a great deal of confusion in the public mind regarding the operation of the two City Relief Acts. Ostensibly the tax sale is to be of all properties, the taxation on which is in arrear for 1915 and 1916. Under the first relief act it was provided that arrears up to the end of 1917 could be pooled and paid off in ten yearly instalments and those who availed themselves of this relief were under the obligation to pay, as well as the instalment, one year of general and local improvement taxes. Under this arrangement, in order to escape a tax sale, those who are in arrears will be called upon to pay the instalment under the pooling plan which is due. In addition they will have to pay the general and local improvement taxes which are due for 1919 and which may not have been paid. Over and above these payments the properties affected which go to a tax sale will also be in arrear in payments of both general and local improvement taxes for the current year, so that it will be all these arrears, plus the balance of the pooled arrears, which will be the upset sale price at which the property will have to be sold by the city.

The whole situation regarding the approaching tax sale is complicated and there must be many property owners, who may realize how much they owe the city, but who are befogged about the amount they will have to pay in order to save their property from going to a tax sale. It is essential there should be a full and exhaustive statement without delay, because, in proportion to the ability to pay of those in arrears, the amounts which will have to be forthcoming before October 5 in order to save properties will be so heavy in a number of instances that it is advisable that those affected should be notified at once so that they may do everything in their power to prevent loss of property. We could quote instances which have come to our attention which show that a property owner who may be in arrear to the extent of $1,200 or so would have to pay $600 or $700 to escape the tax sale. By virtue of having been unable to keep up with the instalment relief plan he will not only be in arrear for 1915 and 1916, but also, possibly, for 1913 and 1914, while the city, in order to recuperate itself at a tax sale, will have to include all arrears as the upset price of a property and these will also involve the 1918, 1919 and 1920 taxes which, in the aggregate because of the iniquitous taxation now prevailing on land, will make the land unsaleable.

The City Council can probably do little or nothing to alter the terms of the tax sale, but what it can do is to notify all property owners in arrear, without any loss of time, as to what their payments must be to escape the tax sale. There are some who owe thousands, some hundreds of dollars, and to either class the difficulty of paying up is probably equally great. If the city leaves it until a month or so before the tax sale to notify delinquent property owners what their obligations are the greater will be the amount of property which will be relinquished, and the more, in consequence, will be left on the hands of the city. The action of the Government in failing to give adequate relief, or any relief worthy of consideration, to municipal taxation has still further rendered the local situation acute. In the interests of the civic exchequer there should be a full and ample statement made regarding the effects of the forthcoming tax sale.

BRITAIN AND U. S. A.

The Toronto Mail and Empire demands that the Hearst publications of the United States be excluded from Canada on the ground that they are engaged in propaganda inimical to the interests of this country and of its connection with the British Empire. There may be elements of the population of Canada that are affected by the violence of the utterances of the Hearst newspapers against Great Britain, but they cannot be very important or greatly influential. The campaign of the journals of W. R. Hearst is being conducted principally for domestic political purposes, and it will continue until the Presidential and Congressional elections are held in November. We cannot conceive of a great number of Canadians being sufficiently interested in the rubbish to read it. That probably is the view that Canadian authorities take of the matter and accounts for their ignoring many demands for the exclusion of the Hearst newspapers and publications from the mails.

There is another aspect of the campaign of Mr. Hearst that is more disquieting than the effect in Canada of his attacks upon the British Empire. Statesmen of broad views in all parts of the world, including those of the United States, are agreed that the future welfare of all nations depends to a very large extent upon the promotion and continuance of cordial relations between the United States and Great Britain. Both are Empires from the point of view of extent of territory and magnitude of resources. They are pre-eminent in commerce and industry and lead in the adoption of measures calculated to promote the welfare of their own people, and naturally wield a wholesome influence upon the affairs of all nations. In these days when unrest prevails over the face of practically the whole globe, the most unfortunate thing that could happen would be a rupture of the close relations at present prevailing between the two dominating Powers, and it would be a world calamity if they should be estranged by any circumstance whatever. We do not believe there is any likelihood of such an occurrence. Canadians who have watched the course of political events in the United States for any considerable length of time know that campaigns of the character at present being conducted by Hearst in his newspapers by politicians in Congress and on the "stump," break out at regular periodic intervals—say, once in four years—and at times they assume considerable virulence and exceed the bounds of reason. They pass and "leave scarcely a wrack behind." They are irritating to reasonable men in the United States as well as in Canada; but as for having any permanent effect upon the relations of Great Britain and the republic, that is very improbable.

It may prove a source of comfort to our Toronto contemporary to be informed that influential newspapers of the United States are just as emphatic in their terms of condemnation of the Hearst vituperation as any Canadian journal. One of them has forwarded to The Colonist an editorial suggestion on the subject. It recommends a boycott by Canadians of all the goods advertised in the Hearst press. It thinks action of that kind would penetrate a vital part of the publications and would be very much more effective than government action, which might create notoriety and prove an advertisement rather than a preventive.

INCOME TAX RELIEF.

The budget speech of the Chancellor of the Exchequer delivered on April 19 last contains reference to income tax burdens within the Empire and promises immediate and substantial relief. This matter is one which affects the pockets of many thousands of residents of this country but the cable news service passed it over in silence. We print today the statement made by Mr. Austen Chamberlain which shows that the relief to be given is to be afforded by the reduction of the rate of the United Kingdom income tax, including super-tax, up to one-half of the rate of tax charged upon the taxable income, and it is anticipated that the balance of the relief required, if any, will be given by the Dominions concerned.

This question of double income tax has been a matter of wide Imperial interest. An investigation was held on the subject by a Royal Commission which heard representations from Australia, Canada, India, Newfoundland and South Africa. The solution proposed by the representatives of all these countries, with one exception, was that which has been adopted by the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Britain is to put the alteration into effect and the various representatives of the Overseas Dominions will recommend to their different governments that the relief should be made complete. When it is considered how many thousands of people there are in this country alone who derive their incomes from British investments it can be realized how they will benefit from the relief to be put into effect, a relief which has been in demand more than ever since there has been an adverse rate of exchange against the pound sterling.

TRENDING CITYWARDS

It is just as true today as it was two thousand years ago that man is born to trouble as the sparks fly upward. The Province of Ontario has an agricultural government, so to speak, and yet the troubles of that government are chiefly agricultural in their aspect. The trials that are incidental to urban affairs Premier Drury can grasp and deal with, but those of a rural aspect are more elusive. As an example, while the population of the Provincial cities continues to increase, the inhabitants of the districts are steadily declining, and the Government is sorely troubled thereat. It blames the high pay, the short hours and the general allurements of the cities for the tendencies of young men to flee from the farms. The exodus has been going on for years and it cannot be stemmed notwithstanding the high prices commanded by agricultural products. Then, to cap the climax, the season in Ontario is late this year and the crop is likely to be at least twenty per cent below the normal, and Mr. Drury warns the city dwellers that they will have to pay the piper for the dances of the young men who have flooded to the cities. He means that the cost of food will be higher than ever this year; that those who have been growling about the prices of potatoes will have something tangible upon which to hang a grievance in the days to come. So there you are: even the possession of a high official post with a substantial salary attached to it brings little satisfaction here below.

Canada imported from the United States during the first three months of 1920 goods to the value of $229,790,119, and for these paid approximately ten per cent more than they were worth. In other words Canada paid $23,000,000, or thereabouts, which had to be made good out of the pockets of the Canadian consumer. This is the result of an adverse rate of exchange and is a contributory cause to the high cost of living. In spite of it all this country continues to buy from the United States and at the same time continues to grumble about the prices of commodities.

CITIZENS ASKED TO MEET TONIGHT

Will Gather in Council Chamber to Endorse Sending of Delegates to Ottawa for Further Ship Contracts

Tonight the citizens of Victoria will be called together in the Council Chamber at the City Hall for the purpose of giving their support to the delegation which leaves tomorrow for Ottawa to endeavor to obtain further ship contracts from the Dominion Government for the Harbor Marine Yard here.

The delegation in question was named by the Harbor Marine Veterans' Association, the yard organization, which held a meeting one noon hour and decided to go after further work. Already the main organizations of the city have given their support to the delegation. The Ex-Service Council, representing the returned men's organizations, the Rotary Club, the Kiwanis Club and the Mayor have endorsed the project.

All organizations are asked to be represented tonight at the meeting, which commences at 8 o'clock. All business men who can possibly attend are asked to do so in order to give their support to a plan which, if it succeeds, will mean a monetary gain for themselves in addition to aiding the city in which they live.

There will be four speakers from the Harbor Marine Yard, these being the two delegates going to Ottawa, Major Cunningham and Major Kirkpatrick-Crockett; Mr. Green, assistant to the naval architect, and Major Bullock-Webster, employment agent at the plant and president of the yard association.

SUGGESTS LIBRARIES IN SAANICH SCHOOLS

Secretary Cowper, of Saanich School Board, Advances Plan for Circulating Donated Books Among Schools

That Saanich schools be provided with libraries, the books of which would be moved from school to school at intervals, was a suggestion made by Secretary Cowper at the Saanich School Board meeting last night.

The question arose when a delegation made a request for a library at the North Dairy School. It was pointed out that Saanich could not utilise the Provincial Government's travelling library as the municipality contributed to the city library. Trustee Raven stated that the city would not give a library service to Saanich schools.

It was then suggested to the delegation that North Dairy might make up a library from donated books, as was done in the outer districts of Saanich. This was accepted as a good idea. Secretary Cowper then advanced the plan of libraries for all Saanich schools, the books to be circulated from school to school at intervals. The books could be obtained by donations, he said.

This scheme was hailed with delight both by the delegates and the board, and it was decided to put the matter up to the parent-teachers' associations throughout the municipality. Offers of Henty and similar joys of boyhood were made by trustees at last night's meeting, if any library plan is adopted.

FLAGS TOO EXPENSIVE

Saanich School Board Tells Delegation Government Refuses to Donate Bunting

That standard flags cost today $42.50 each, and the Provincial Government refuses to supply them to the Saanich schools in view of the expense, was the claim made by the Saanich School Board to a delegation which requested among other things a flag for the North Dairy School.

The trustees pointed out that the Government was supposed to supply flags which were necessary for carrying out the programme as laid down by the Department of Education. Applications to the Government had been fruitless. The shortage of bunting is general throughout the Saanich schools.

TO IMPROVE GROUNDS

Delegation Induces Saanich School Board to Clear Property at North Dairy School

A delegation of ratepayers waited upon the Saanich School Board last night to ask for improvements at the North Dairy School. Members of the delegation stated that the residents would be willing to aid in the clearing of a piece of land adjacent to the school for a basketball ground. This offer was accepted.

The School Board will purchase the wood to be cut off the property and will use it in the school stoves, the proceeds to go to the school sports fund.

A committee from the board and the residents will meet at the school on Saturday to decide how the new ground will be laid out.

MURDERERS BROUGHT FROM FAR NORTHLAND

THE PAS, May 10.—Ouangwake, aged 25, an Eskimo, is in the provincial jail here charged with double murder at Lake Shekoligyouak, west of Chesterfield Inlet, in the sub-Arctic.

The crime is said to have been committed in December, 1919, and Sergt. Douglas, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, spent six months on the Barren Lands in search of him.

According to the story, Ouangwake shot two brothers.

Another muderer, a treaty Indian of York Factory, is also in the provincial jail. He is accused of killing his cousin at Ten Shilling Creek, on April 1, when a quarrel resulted over ownership of some traps.

Oldest Man in Fort William

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., May 10.—John C. McDonald, the oldest man in Fort William, died this morning at his home here at the age of 95. He is survived by his wife and seven children. The old couple recently celebrated the sixty-seventh anniversary of their wedding.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The British Colonist of May 11, 1870)

That Pesky Island—Like their Republican brethren, the Democrats of the State of Washington have issued their platform, and, like theirs, it consists of seven planks. On one point only is there a consensus of sentiment. Both mean to have San Juan Island. The seventh plank in the Democratic platform runs thus: "We hold that the national honor demands prompt enforcement of our claims to San Juan Island." We beg our neighbors over the water to make their minds perfectly at ease over San Juan, as the British Lion is amply capable of guarding it and the "national honor" at the same time.

Responsible Government for France—The result of the popular vote in France fully sustains the Emperor. A majority of five million is a pretty strong [illegible] of the liberal government lately granted the country and the devotion of the army is an additional pledge of internal peace. One-man government in France is gone forever and is succeeded by responsible government with M. Ollivier at its head.

LIVESTOCK INTEREST IS DR. TOLMIE'S CARE

OTTAWA, May 10.—Further steps toward insuring to Canada a large output of livestock and livestock products are to be taken right away by the Federal Department of Agriculture, it was learned here tonight.

A Dominion-wide campaign in an effort to control and ultimately to eradicate tuberculosis among Canadian livestock is outlined in an announcement by Hon. Dr. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture. During the last 10 years this trouble has been increasing both in cattle and in hogs at a more or less uniform rate, according to the Minister.

Tuberculosis of swine, which is closely related to tuberculosis of cattle, has increased from an average of 10 per cent to slightly more than 20 per cent during that period.

REPORTS INDICATE FURTHER INCREASE

Dominion Department of Labor Statement Shows 522 More Employees for a Single Week Recently in B. C.

The Dominion Department of Labor, Ottawa, reports that for the week ending April 10 there had been an increase of 522 employees registered in British Columbia. This may be taken, perhaps, as a criterion of the general trend of events. The report was based on the returns tabulated from 447 firms in British Columbia, showing in all 59,679 employees. The increase had not been anticipated, as the reports for the week of April 3 indicated an estimated reduction of 375 persons. For the week of April 17 the same firms estimated that they would employ seven persons less than during the week under review. In comparison with returns for the same week an increase of 1,808 persons was registered.

The following is an analytic statement of the conditions in labor and industry:

Plus Industries

Logging, railway construction, edible animal products, lumber and its products, edible plant products, fur goods, iron and steel, pulp and paper, textiles, non-metallic minerals other than coal, personal services, telephone operation, wholesale trade, local and railway transportation recorded increases as compared with returns for preceding week. The additions of respectively 209 persons and 205 persons in the lumber and its products and railway construction groups were the largest shown. For the week ending April 17 further increases were expected in logging, railway construction, lumber and its products, pulp and paper, textiles, wholesale trade, local and railway transportation. An estimated addition of 77 persons in lumber and its products was the largest increase anticipated. Non-metallic minerals other than coal, and telephone operation expected to have no changes. Declines were anticipated in edible animal products, edible plant products, iron and steel, fur goods and personal services, the proposed reductions being nominal in character.

Minus Industries

Decreases in comparison with the returns for April 3 were recorded in building construction, leather and leather goods, mineral products, n.e.s., non-ferrous metal products, miscellaneous manufacturing industries, coal mining, hotels and restaurants, telegraph operation, retail trade and water transportation. The decline in the last named group of 139 persons was the largest registered during the week. This group, building construction and coal mining, anticipated having further declines during the week of April 17. Leather and leather goods, mineral products, n.e.s., non-ferrous metal products and retail trade, expected to have no changes. Miscellaneous manufacturing industries, hotels and restaurants and telegraph operation anticipated having increases.

In Comparison

In comparison with the returns for the base week (January 17), increases were recorded in logging, building and railway construction, clay, glass and stone products, edible plant products, non-ferrous metal products, pulp and paper, textiles, miscellaneous manufacturing industries, metallic ores, non-metallic minerals other than coal, personal services, telegraph and telephone operation, wholesale trade, local rail and water transportation. The additions registered in railway construction, non-ferrous metal products and water transportation in which groups 606, 324 and 389 persons, respectively, were additionally employed showed the largest increases. In this comparison, edible animal products, lumber and its products, fur goods, iron and steel, leather and leather goods, mineral products, n.e.s., coal mining and retail trade recorded reductions. With the exception of the decline of 695 persons in iron and steel products, and of 132 persons in edible animal products, these decreases were of a nominal character.

REPRESENTS B. C. AT IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

Chief Forester, M. A. Grainger, Will Attend Forestry Gathering in London in July—B.C. Woods for Exhibit

British Columbia will be represented at the Imperial Forestry Conference to be held in London, Eng., from July 5 to 17, and in which all the overseas Dominions will participate. Mr. M. A. Grainger, Chief Forester of the Provincial Forest Branch, will leave shortly for England to represent this Province at the gathering, one which is expected to prove of immense importance in the future development of the lumber trade of the various portions of the Empire.

While the conference is in progress an Empire Timber Exhibition will be held in London, at which the various overseas countries will have exhibits of their lumber resources. Canada will join with the others, and an exhibit illustrative of the timber wealth of the various Provinces will be made. A number of samples of British Columbia woods, photographs of forest scenes, etc., have been forwarded by the Provincial Forest Branch to Ottawa to be included in the Dominion exhibit.

At the Imperial Forestry Conference one of the chief items to be dealt with will be the making of provision for the compilation of an estimate of the timber within the Empire, the varieties, etc. The necessity of the development of the resources of the various British countries and of inter-Imperial trade was the motive behind the move for the conference, and the deliberations thereat are expected to prove of great importance to the future trade activities within the Empire.

There will be, it is expected, over 150 in attendance at the conference representative of every country within the Empire.

NO WIFE IN SIGHT; HE WANTS LICENCE

Albertan Indignant When Mayor Porter Declines to Issue Matrimonial Passport

Mr. Joe Chill, of Alberta, breezed into town yesterday, looking for a wife. He went straight to the City Hall and asked for Mayor Porter.

The Mayor was busy and his secretary, Miss Kathleen O'Rourke, asked if there was anything she could do for the caller.

Mr. Chill was dubious, but he put his question anyway. He wanted a marriage licence, and thought probably the Mayor could fix it up. "How long can a man go round with a licence in his pocket without getting married?" he asked.

Miss O'Rourke wasn't sure; neither was Mayor Porter, who issued from his office just in time to hear the question. The Mayor asked Mr. Chill why he wanted to keep the licence so long before using it.

"Well, I don't know any lady who will marry me yet," Mr. Chill explained. "I don't want to take any chances. When I land someone I want to be all prepared, with licence and everything. I'm going to play safe."

Mr. Chill was almost indignant when he was told that the Mayor didn't make the practise of issuing marriage licences. He said that where he came from they sold licences in jewelry stores. He was told to go to the Court House. Some of the aldermen contend that the Mayor has authority to give Mr. Chill what he asked. Ald. Sargent says that in Dakota one can get from mayors marriage licences with divorce coupons attached.

WILL BE GIVEN TAXATION RELIEF

Vancouver Island Residents Will Benefit by Income Tax Reductions Proposed by Chancellor of Exchequer

Relief to British residents of Overseas Dominions who derive their incomes from British investments is promised by the Chancellor of the Exchequer in his budget speech of April 19 last. The relief has been warmly advocated by the Duncan Board of Trade for several months past. The tax at present paid plus the rate of exchange have meant the halving of certain small incomes enjoyed by a considerable number of Vancouver Island residents. The allusion to the matter by the Chancellor of the Exchequer follows:

"Finally, in respect of income tax, I propose to deal with the difficult problem of double income tax within the Empire. War conditions here and in the Dominions, and war taxation produced such a measure of hardship that temporary relief was afforded by a section of the Finance Act of 1916, which although admittedly only of a stop-gap character did afford at the expense of the United Kingdom exchequer considerable relief from the double burden. At the same time promise was made by my predecessor or by the Government as a whole that as soon as possible after the war the whole question should be investigated. This investigation naturally formed part of the work entrusted to the Royal Commission, and I am happy to say that they have been able to find a solution of this troublesome problem. The Commission has unanimously approved the recommendation made to it by a sub-committee, and I propose to adopt it. The report of the sub-committee is included as an appendix in the printed report of the Commission. It shows that Australia, Canada, India, Newfoundland, New Zealand, and South Africa sent representatives before the Commission who, with one exception, were prepared to recommend the solution proposed to their respective Governments.

"Shortly, the proposal provides that when within the Empire the same income is taxed twice, usually because it is enjoyed in some part of the Empire other than that in which it arises, the lower income tax should be eliminated by the countries concerned respectively remitting proportions of their tax equal in the aggregate to the whole of the lower tax, that is, between the United Kingdom and the Dominions it is proposed that relief should be afforded by the reduction of the rate of the United Kingdom income tax, including supertax, up to one-half of the rate of tax charged upon the taxable income, and the balance of relief, if any, shall be given by the Dominions concerned. It is in the case of a taxpayer charged in the United Kingdom at the rate of 5s. on income, which is also taxed in the Dominion at the rate of 5s. The relief from the United Kingdom income tax will be at the rate of 2s. 6d., that is, one-half of 5s., and the balance of relief—namely, 2s. 6d.—necessary to eliminate altogether the losses of the two charges, will under the terms of the proposal be afforded by the Dominion in question. The Commissioner's report shows in great detail by several examples the actual working of the scheme. I confidently hope the Dominions will adopt the proposal and make relief complete by similar action on their part. In any case, I propose to put the alteration into operation forthwith. Where the Dominion rate of tax does not exceed one-half of the United Kingdom rate the relief will be complete. These present temporary reliefs cost the exchequer £1,000,000 a year. The additional charge to the exchequer involved in the more extensive relief now proposed will be another £2,000,000 in a full year, making £4,000,000 in all. For the current year the total cost of reliefs will be £3,000,000."

IN THE COURTS

County Courts

The suit of the Beay Motor Company vs. John Milnay was tried yesterday in the County Court by His Honor Judge Lampman. The suit was brought for the recovery of a motor car sold by the plaintiff company last year to Mr. J. E. Bailey, then senior partner in the Good Eats Cafe, of this city. Mr. Bailey made only a part payment on the car, and subsequently, as a result of financial difficulties, assigned the car to one of his creditors, the defendant in the present suit. As the result of a mistake in recording the licence number of the car, the plaintiffs were only lately able to locate it. They found it in the possession of the defendant, and hence the present suit.

His Honor gave judgment for the plaintiffs, with costs. Mr. J. Aikman appeared for the plaintiffs, and Mr. J. Percival Wallis for the defendants.

VICTORIA VANCOUVER

City and District in Brief

Vital Statistics—During the month of April there were 111 births in Victoria, 36 deaths and 56 marriages.

Council Endorses Project — The City Council last night endorsed the Oak Bay natatorium project.

Cellar Fire—Fire in the cellar of the premises at 563 Bay Street gave the fire department a run yesterday. The damage was nil.

Appoint Returning Officer—Mr. W. W. Northcott has accepted appointment as returning officer for the municipal golf links referendum May 28.

Grant for Prizes—The Council last night authorized the granting of $100 to the District Public Schools Sports Committee to assist in purchasing prizes for the sports to be held at the Willows on May 21.

Navy League Grant — The City Council last night referred to the Finance Committee a request from the Navy League for reconsideration of the decision not to grant financial assistance this year.

"J" Unit Chapter — The regular monthly meeting of "J" Unit Chapter, I.O.D.E., will be held this evening at the Jones Building, Fort Street, at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to attend to hear the provincial report.

Portland Rose Festival—The City Council will endeavor to be represented at the Rose Festival being held in Portland June 24. The Council received last night an invitation to be present from the Portland Rose Festival Association, which also suggests a floral display from Victoria as an entry in the parade.

Pupils Might Build Schools—That pupils learning manual training could aid in building new schools for Saanich was the opinion expressed by Chairman P. C. Coates in a meeting of the Saanich School Board last night. He quoted somewhat similar instances elsewhere.

Increased Production—Mr. Gough, chief of staff of the civic increased production brigade, has just issued the following notice: "This is the last call for plowing orders at $2.50 per lot. The city teams will finish plowing in a few days. Get your orders in at once."

Free Water for Cricket Ground—A request from the Victoria and District Cricket Association for free water for the Jubilee Hospital grounds was referred last night by the Council to Water Commissioner F. M. Preston for report. A delegation from the association will wait upon the Streets Committee Friday at 2:30.

New Home Industry—Mrs. Dennis Harris will give a short talk on "Weaving—The New Home Industry"—to the members of the Lady Douglas Chapter, I. O. D. E., at their regular monthly meeting this afternoon at 3:30. The agenda for the annual meeting of the National Chapter will also be considered.

Girl Guides—A meeting is to be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Joyce, Wilkinson Road, for all those interested in the newly-formed company of Girl Guides in Strawberry Vale and Garden City. Matters relating to uniforms, camps, etc., will be discussed, and it is particularly requested that all parents attend if possible.

Taxing Houseboats—The city will approach the Dominion authorities with a view to obtaining power to tax tenants of houseboats in Victoria's inner harbor. City Solicitor H. S. Pringle last night reported to the Council that he was of the opinion that the city has at present no authority to collect revenue from this class of residents. The matter, he said, was wholly within the jurisdiction of the Dominion Government.

Kiwanis Luncheon—Dr. Butler, local New Thought leader, will be the speaker at the Kiwanis Club luncheon today. He will announce his subject at the meeting. George Swain will be the soloist for the occasion. The attendance prize for this week will be donated by the genial Kiwanis editor, Benjamin C. Nicholas. Kiwanian Dibble has won the prize on two successive weeks.

Island Arts and Crafts—The general monthly meeting of the Island Arts and Crafts Club will be held in the club rooms, 32-3 Union Bank Building, on Thursday evening, at 8:15 o'clock, when the president, Dr. Hasell, will give a talk on the drawings and paintings of Miss Ravenhill (England), some of whose work will be on exhibition. Miss Ravenhill is a sister of the well-known family of the name now living in Victoria.

Woman Will Be Charged — Mrs. Frank King, who last week at her home on Walnut Street swallowed a quantity of Lysol, will appear in the police court this morning charged with attempting to commit suicide. The case was scheduled to be tried yesterday morning, but the woman was reported to be too ill to appear.

At Nanaimo—Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, is in Nanaimo and will not return until tomorrow.

To Be Deported—Jack Duffey, who has been held by the city police officials for several days, after being remanded in the City Police Court on a charge of vagrancy, was again brought into court yesterday. City Prosecutor Harrison told Magistrate Jay that the man was wanted by the Immigration Department for deportation to the United States. He is wanted on the other side for escaping from a penitentiary, where he was recently serving a sentence for grand larceny.

L'Alliance Francaise—The last gathering for the present season of l'Alliance Francaise members was held last night at the Victoria Club, and proved a very delightful social event, thanks to the enthusiasm and organizing ability of Mrs. Sanderson. Charades, songs, guessing competitions, etc., proved diverting as well as instructive, and three hours were pleasantly passed in this way, the members quite reluctantly seeing the termination of the gatherings for the Summer months.

Attractive Publication—The May number of The Islander is brimful of matter of interest to residents of Vancouver Island, to the interests of which it devotes its columns. With the paper is now incorporated The Canadian, a weekly publication which, during its career, made many friends. The Islander is the official organ of the Victoria and Island Development Association, and besides doing justice to the Victoria field, also covers in a comprehensive manner the Island. The May number is an exceptionally attractive and interesting one.

Tardy Salvage of $15 — When the name of Morris Hennessey was called in the City Police Court yesterday on a charge of undue indulgence in the waters of oblivion, there was no response, and the accused was adjudged guilty and to have forfeited the amount of his bail in the sum of $20. But the accused made an eleventh-hour appearance, and pleaded guilty to the indictment. He was let off with the customary penalty of a $5 fine, and went away rejoicing with the $15 he had salvaged from the amount of his bail.

False Alarms—A false alarm called the fire brigade to Box 134, corner of Gorge Road and Washington Street at 9 o'clock last night. Of late some individual, fit subject for the fool-killer, has been taking a delight in sending in false alarms from widely separated sections of the city. The practice which renders the miscreant, if caught, subject to to a stiff punishment, appears to be on the increase. Members of the department threaten that if they succeed in catching the offender, and he proves to be man size it won't be necessary for the courts to deal with him.

Anglican Missioner Coming—Rev. Frederick King, M.C., of the Community of the Resurrection, Mirfield, England, will conduct an afternoon's retreat and special services in St. Barnabas' Church, Cook Street and Caledonia Avenue, tomorrow afternoon and evening. Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, and the first service in the afternoon will begin at 3 o'clock. The missioner will also give an address at an evening service at 8 o'clock. The general subject of the addresses is announced as "The Vision of God."

Board of Trade Tour—Five cars carrying members of the wholesalers' section of the Board of Trade left Victoria yesterday on a week's tour of up-Island points. Following is the personnel of the party: Jas. H. Beatty, vice-president, Board of Trade; R. H. Brenchley, representing F. R. Stewart & Co.; Jas. Forman, Heisterman & Forman; C. F. TO CELEBRATE MASS IN ST. BARNABAS

Rev. Father King, of Community of Resurrection, Will Conduct Retreat

Rev. Father Frederick King, of the Community of the Resurrection, Mirfield, England, will arrive in Victoria tomorrow morning from Vancouver, where he has conducted a ten days' mission in St. James' Anglican Church. He will remain in the city until Thursday afternoon, when he will leave for the East on his return journey to England.

During his brief sojourn here, Father King will be in residence at St. Barnabas Rectory and will participate in the Ascensiontide services at St. Barnabas Church.

On Wednesday afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock, he will conduct a short retreat which will conclude at 5:30 o'clock. At 8 p.m., on the same day, he will be the preacher at the first evensong of the Ascension. This service will be fully choral. The Holy Eucharist will be offered at 8 a.m., when all who intend to be present at the retreat are specially invited to attend.

It is expected that many will avail themselves of the opportunity thus afforded of hearing the message which the well-known missioner has to deliver.

The Mirfield Fathers

The Community of the Resurrection, to which Father King belongs, is one of the leading communities for priests and laymen in the Anglican Church. Many of the Mirfield Fathers are prominent in the world of literature, notably the late Father Figgis, the author of "Civilisation at the Cross Roads;" Father Paul Bull, a leading authority on sociological questions, and Bishop Gore, who founded the order.

Missionary enterprise forms a large part of the work of the community, which also conducts an important seminary for the training of candidates for Holy Orders.

Father King's visit to Victoria marks the conclusion of a series of missions he has conducted throughout the Canadian West.

On Thursday, Ascension Day, at 7:30 a.m. in St. Barnabas Church, Father King will be celebrant at mass, and at 9:30 a.m. the rector of the parish, Rev. Father Smith, will celebrate.

COMMERCIAL FLYING DEVELOPS IN CANADA

OTTAWA, May 10.—No fewer than 11 aerial taxicab companies are being formed in Western Canada, and a number of these have been already licenced by the Air Board. Lieut.-Col. Scott, who has active charge of the certificates branch of the Air Board, has just returned from a tour of inspection of the West, and reports great activity and possibilities for very real development of commercial flying in that part of the Dominion.

Six routes for transcontinental flights are established. The building of aerodromes is the important detail which has been neglected in Canada, Col. Scott points out.

Four commercial flying companies have been floated in Winnipeg, one will be formed in Brandon. An aerodrome is to be built at Virden, Man. There is one commercial flying company in Regina, one in Moose Jaw, two in Saskatoon, two in Edmonton, one in Hanna, Alta., one in Calgary, one in Lethbridge, one in Banff, and two in Vancouver.

Commercial flying has been developed to a high standard on the Pacific Coast.

There are enough babies born in New York City every year to populate four cities like Roanoke, Va.

HEARS COMPLAINT OF SHORT-WEIGHT BREAD

City Council Refers Matter to Police — Bakers' Strike Is to Blame, Manufacturers Claim

Bread sold in Victoria lately has been under weight and has not been labelled, as required by law, the City Council was told last night by President Eugene Woodward, of the Trades and Labor Council.

The Victoria Cake and Bread Manufacturers' Association admits the bread has not been labelled, but claims that the strike of bakery operators has been responsible.

"We are laying the position before you with the request that you will, if possible, forego the demands of the by-law in connection with labelling until our present labor difficulties are overcome," wrote Mr. Harry Amphlett, secretary of the association. "If it is impossible for you to grant such concession, we suggest that our delinquency in this regard will be viewed as lightly as possible, credit being given us for the fact that we are not committing any wilful infraction of the by-law, but simply are hindered from carrying it out by the difficulties of our position."

Refer to Police

Ald. Johns, seconded by Ald. Dewar, moved that the matter be referred to the Board of Police Commissioners.

Ald. Todd contended that the City Council was powerless to do anything in the matter and should ignore both the complaint from Mr. Woodward and the explanation from Mr. Amphlett.

The Johns motion was adopted.

"The police have no option in the question," said Mayor Porter, chairman of the Police Board. "They must prosecute."

Mr. Woodward charged that he had seen unlabelled bread showing "an alarming shortage in regulation weight." He held that a fraud was being perpetrated on an unsuspecting public that might amount to a daily loss of 5,000 pounds of bread, worth $500.

"It is grossly unfair," declared Mr. Woodward, "that the public should be defrauded at $500 daily in order to facilitate the task of the master bakers in breaking a strike. It is not enough to bring a solitary prosecution against these men. All unlabelled bread should be seized by the fair weight officer and withheld from the market."

Blames Strikers

"The men quit work without notice, leaving all doughs which had been prepared for the heavy week-end trade without attention," Mr. Amphlett pointed out. "Since this time we have been working with untrained labor, and, notwithstanding these difficulties, have succeeded in maintaining adequate supplies to the public.

"Any extra operation involved in production would have greatly reduced our output, which in turn would have caused great inconvenience to the public, and in the case of our supplies to hospitals and public institutions, probably some actual suffering."

OBITUARY NOTICES

CAPLEN—William Charles Caplen died Sunday morning at his residence, 112 Ladysmith Street, aged 46 years and seven months. Born in Worthing, Sussex, he had been a resident of Victoria for some years and at the time of his death was a superintendent of the Pemberton Building. He is survived by his widow and one daughter in this city, and his father and brother in England. He was a member of the Masonic craft. The funeral will be held from the B. C. Funeral Chapel on Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

POPE—The death occurred yesterday morning at his late residence, 517 Government Street, of James Pope, in his 83rd year. The remains are reposing at the Sands Funeral Chapel, and will be removed to the I.O.O.F. Hall on Wednesday afternoon from where the funeral will be held at 2 o'clock. The deceased was a member of I.O.O.F. Columbia No. 2, also a charter member of Rebecca Court Colfax No. 1. Rev. H. R. Baker will officiate. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

OWENS—Anna Owens, mother of James Owens, Saanich Police Commissioner, and Robert Owens, of the Provincial Police, died Saturday at New Westminster, at the age of 69 years. Mrs. Owens was the widow of the late J. K. Owens, and had lived over twenty-nine years in this city, making a host of friends. Born at Bangor, County Down, Ireland, she leaves three sons and two daughters, Norman Owens of Ocean Falls, Mrs. T. T. Hutchison, of Saanich, and Mrs. John Munro, of Ocean Falls, in addition to the two sons named.

SPEEDERS HEAVILY FINED

Saanich Police Set Trap for Guilty Offenders and Magistrate Does the Rest

The efforts of the Saanich police to deal with the evil of motor speeding in that municipality were illustrated by the evidences given in the Saanich police court yesterday, when officers of the Saanich force explained to Magistrate Jay their most recent method of detecting offenders. They have measured 440 yards of the East Saanich Road, at the place where it passes Elk Lake. Two officers station themselves, one at each end of the measured course. By a system of signalling with handkerchiefs, and using a stop watch, the time taken by any car in covering the known quarter of a mile is recorded. The use of field glasses enables the officer to take the number of car of the fleeing offender.

By these means a number of motorists found themselves in court yesterday to answer charges of speeding. In imposing the fines in these cases Magistrate Jay remarked that he was determined, as far as he was concerned, that this notorious speeding in the Saanich district should come to an end. Sooner or later, he said, if this thing were permitted to go on, there would be an accident, whose results could not be settled by way of a fine.

J. W. Duncan and Dr. D. B. Holden were each fined $20 on a charge of speeding. James A. Hill was fined $50. He had not driven the car himself, but was summoned as its owner. It was proved that the young lady driving the car had come all the way from Saanichton to the city limits, at what the Saanich Chief of Police, who followed her in his own car, described as "a furious rate." C. G. Grimm was fined $20 on a similar charge, and S. C. Bell had to pay $10 for driving without a light. Several cases were held over.

MUST PROVE STRENGTH TO OBTAIN SUPPORT

City Council Will Not Consider Building Bath Pipeline Project Until Finances Are Substantial

Not until the Seaview Pavilion Swimming Baths, promoted by Mr. W. F. Best, can show that it has substantial capital behind it will the City Council have dealings with the concern.

Mr. Best wrote the Council last night, referring to negotiations with Ald. Adwyn B. Andros, chairman of the Parks Committee, and suggesting that the city lay a salt water main from the sea at Dallas Road near Beacon Hill Park to a proposed site on the southwest corner of Belleville and Douglas Streets, at an estimated cost of $19,000.

"The company agrees," wrote Mr. Best, "that as the building will cost over $50,000, not to ask the city to lay this water main until the sum of $40,000 has been expended on the baths. This will, of course, leave ample time for the city to have the mains laid by the time the building is completed."

Mr. Best suggested that a referendum on the $19,000 outlay should be presented at the time of the golf links vote.

"We should hold this request until Mr. Best can show us that he has capital back of him," said Ald. Johns.

Ald. Andros, although admitting that he did not see why Mr. Best selected him as a channel for negotiation with the city, said he did not think the proposal of Mr. Best was unreasonable. The city was safe in accepting the proposal, he held.

"We sifted this matter to the bottom before, and we know the result," declared Ald. Patrick. "We are in total ignorance of any agreement or arrangement he may have made with Ald. Andros."

"There have been no secret meetings," interjected the Mayor.

"After all what have we before us?" asked Ald. Patrick.

"Simply the alderman," replied the Mayor.

The Johns motion was adopted.

KILLING THIS PEST IS EVERYONE'S JOB

Individual Property Owners Should Work to Exterminate Caterpillar, Alderman Claims —Not City's Duty

Individual action on the part of property owners is the only way to wage an effective campaign against the tent caterpillar, Ald. Joseph Patrick told the City Council last night.

Mayor Porter, in a special communication to the Council, said he had noticed that the caterpillar pest was reappearing and that many trees and shrubs were thickly covered with nests. "If any action is contemplated this year to abate this nuisance," wrote the Mayor, "I would advise that it be done immediately, as the cost to control it now would be far less than it would be later, when they commence to crawl."

Ald. Johns moved that the Mayor's letter be received and filed. He said that in previous crusades against the caterpillar only the high spots had been touched, and the money outlays had been wasted.

"We have yet to find an effective remedy," said Ald. Patrick. "The only way is for the individual property owner to clean up his own yard."

Ald. Sargent said that the fight should be commenced now, while the caterpillars were at the impressionable age.

The bride, who was unattended, wore her travelling suit of navy blue serge with hat en suite, was given in marriage by her father, Alexander Hesson. The presents received by the bride were many and beautiful, the bridegroom's being an exceptionally fine black fox fur. The bridegroom is a native of Scotland and the bride of Ontario. X-RAY CONFERENCE VERY SUCCESSFUL

Prof. Jerman, Chicago Radiologist of Note, Pleased With Jubilee Hospital Laboratory —Novel Demonstrations.

"You have an X-ray laboratory in your institution of which you may well be proud. In my travels over the States and Canada, I have never before seen a laboratory in which such careful attention has been given to all the details. I shall always remember, with much pleasure my visit to the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital."

This is an excerpt from a letter written by Professor E. C. Jerman, of Chicago, to Dr. H. Re Rogers, superintendent of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, following the X-ray conference held in the Jubilee Hospital a week ago. Dr. Jerman is one of the acknowledged experts in radiology, and his verdict as to the status of the laboratory in the local hospital is a very valued tribute.

The conference referred to brought together a number of men from different parts of the Province who are interested in the subject, among whom were Dr. Burrows, of Kamloops; Dr. McCallum, of Vancouver, who is opening an X-ray laboratory there shortly; Dr. MacEachern, also of Vancouver, and others.

Demonstrations

Among the most interesting of the several demonstrations given during the week, was one by Professor Jerman illustrating a new method of intensifying the ray results. The results of this method are described as "absolutely astounding," and so convinced of its importance are the authorities both at Jubilee and St. Joseph's Hospitals that they have already added the complete paraphernalia necessary for its adoption. It was also demonstrated that it is now possible to show in the fluoroscope, with much greater clearness than ever before, the various abdominal organs, pancreas or kidneys, any of which can now be shown with practically the same clearness as if they were in the hands of the surgeon. The results are obtained by inserting a small needle through the abdominal wall, and passing through that oxygen gas, which allows a greater contrast than would the normal abdominal contents. With this double screen technique can be definitely shown those organs which it was previously considered impossible to see.

During the week Professor Jerman visited St. Joseph's Hospital, and there found the arrangements and equipment (with the exception of a big new table which was ordered some time ago but which has not yet arrived) practically identical with that at the Jubilee Hospital. The Chicago expert spoke of the amount of dental work that is now being done with X-ray assistance. The up-to-date scientific dentist nowadays absolutely refuses to make extractions or give treatments without first having the information that can be given by the X-ray film.

This last point, by the way, was illustrated in one of the films taken recently at the Jubilee Hospital. A patient who had just recently had a gold bridge fitted was suffering from toothache. The X-ray discovered that while the mechanical work of the dentist was wonderful the ground work was poor, the teeth had not been put in good order before the bridge was fitted.

There are being prepared here a series of plates to be shown at the Dominion Medical Convention which will be held in Vancouver next month. These are being made at Jubilee Hospital by Dr. Poynte, who is in charge of the laboratory there.

Dr. MacEachern, who gave an address while he was over from Vancouver, referred to his visit to the Eastern States and Canada last Autumn, and said that he had not at that time seen an X-ray department which in the matters of equipment and organization could compare with that at Jubilee Hospital. The X-ray department in the Vancouver General Hospital is now being remodelled, and may be more along the lines of the local institution's, Dr. Hamish McIntosh being in charge of this section of the hospital work there.

One Great Essential To a Woman's Health Is Her Nerves

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy as the day is long, instead of being sick and wretched. But how can any woman be healthy and happy when the whole nervous system is unstrung. The trouble is they pay more attention to their social and household duties than they do to their health. Is it any wonder then that they become irritable and nervous, have hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells, become weak and nervous, and everything in life becomes dark and gloomy?

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the very remedy that nervous, tired out, weary women need to restore them to the blessings of good health.

Mrs. F. H. Ryan, Sand Point, N.S., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. I was so weak and nervous I could not sleep at night and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling. I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on my second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I began to feel better and kept on until I had used six boxes when I felt like a different person. I am never without them in the house and recommend them to all who suffer with their nerves."

COWICHAN ROAD IN BEAUTIES OF SPRINGTIME

DUNCAN, May 10.—Both Mayor Thomas Pitt and Mr. Hugh Savage, president of the Duncan Board of Trade, are agreed that some day the Cowichan district will be as famous for its wealth of lovely Spring blossoms as is the renowned Vale of Evesham, within a few miles of which both first saw the light. The plum blossoms yearly attract hosts of sightseers to this English beauty spot.

Here in Cowichan nature has provided an annual feast of loveliness in the flowering of the dogwood. Just now these are approaching their best, and although the season has been backward, by the week-end the roads of Cowichan will be adorned with trees which have the appearance of huge banks of snow, and for the next three weeks will present a sight well worth travelling many miles to get a glimpse of.

Just now the lakes route, a twelve-mile automobile ride from Duncan, is looking its best, for in addition to native flowering plants and trees, man has added the orchards, which are now a veritable sea of color, as well as a great wealth of the grain and cultivated fields. This lake drive is becoming more famous each year.

Messrs. Roe and Caeser, both returned officers, announce that they will run launches from Mill Bay to connect with the B. C. Electric at Brentwood and at Deep Cove, which will afford Victorians another route by which they may reach this district.

Death of Mr. Van Norman

DUNCAN, May 10.—Many friends will regret to hear of the death of Isaac Newton Van Norman, which took place this morning at the King's Daughters' Hospital here. Mr. Van Norman was operated on on Thursday last for acute appendicitis. He was making a good recovery until yesterday, when he suffered a relapse and passed away early this morning. He leaves a wife and four children, two sons, Charlie and Willie, and two daughters, Olive and Bessie, also one sister in Ontario, and two brothers, Tom and Fred, both of Duncan.

The late Mr. Van Norman was born in Peterborough, Ont., on May 28, 1861, and has resided in this district for the past eleven years. Of late he has been engaged as engineer at the Genoa Bay Lumber Company. The funeral will be held on Wednesday, leaving the family residence at 2 o'clock to the Methodist Cemetery at Somenos.

TO COMMEMORATE NURSES WHO DIED

Memorial Ward to Be Opened at Jubilee Hospital to Honor Sisters Who Died During the War

Four nurses who at one time or another were associated with the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, and who gave their lives in service during the war will be commemorated on Saturday next by the opening of a memorial ward at the institution.

The room has been furnished by the Victoria Graduate Nurses' Association, as a memorial to Miss Christina Campbell, Miss Gladys Wake, Miss Jessie King, and Miss Mabel J. McDiarmid. Miss McDiarmid was one of the supervisors at the hospital for a time; the other nurses all took their training course at the Jubilee.

The memorial services are to be held at the hospital at 3 o'clock on Saturday, Colonel the Rev. G. H. Andrews to conduct the service, and Col. David Donald and Col. E. C. Hart to officiate at the formal ceremony of opening the ward.

WILL BE CENTENNARY OF LADY OF THE LAMP

Nurses to Hold Tea at V.O.N. Headquarters Tomorrow

It is particularly appropriate that the centenary of Florence Nightingale's birthday should be observed tomorrow by an event arranged by the Victoria Graduate Nurses' Association as a means of completing the furnishing of a ward at the Jubilee Hospital, to be opened next Saturday, as a tangible memorial to the late nursing sisters, Christina Campbell, Gladys Wake, and Jessie King, three Victoria nurses who died in the pursuance of their war work overseas.

The event, which is to be held at the headquarters of the Victorian Order of Nurses, at 1144 Rockland Avenue, will take the form of a linen shower for the new hospital room, and undoubtedly all members of the nursing profession in the city will welcome the opportunity of honoring the memory of "The Lady of the Lamp" by contributing to the furnishings of the room, which has been furnished in loving memory of the heroic nurses, who have given their lives in the service of their country.

OPENS EXHIBITION OF WAR PAINTINGS

His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor, Officiates at Ceremony—Mrs. Hamilton's Vimy Ridge Paintings Attractive

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, who was accompanied by Mrs. Prior and Mr. H. J. S. Muskett, yesterday afternoon at the Island Arts and Crafts room, Union Bank Building, formally opened the exhibition of Vimy Ridge pictures painted by Mary Riter Hamilton. These pictures, which have been sent to Victoria by the Amputation Club of British Columbia, will be open both today and tomorrow from 2:30 to 5 in the afternoon and from 7:30 to 9 in the evening, which, it is believed, will give all those who are anxious to see the pictures an opportunity of doing so. They were sent to the city some three weeks ago, it will be recalled, in order to be shown at a private view to the Premier and Ministers of the Government, and it was felt that it would be a distinct loss to many returned men and others who are interested in the now historic scenes of the war area if they were not opened to the public while here.

"I hope that the exhibition will be a success, and that the public will come and visit the pictures," declared His Honor in the course of the brief address he made in connection with the opening. He did not claim to kiow sufficient about art to pass judgment on the pictures from this standpoint; but he felt that they realistically depicted the places shown, and those who knew Mrs. Hamilton's work would undoubtedly recognize the work as typical. In conclusion he expressed thanks to the Amputation Club, the Arts and Crafts Club, and the I.O.D.E., all of which organisations were uniting in taking charge of the exhibition.

An Explanation.

There are some sixty paintings in all. Catalogues which fully explain the interesting facts in connection with each are being sold at the door, but there is an explanation which seems to be omitted. And it is important. It has to do with Picture No. 8, which to the lay eye as well as to the artist must appear unnecessarily gaudy and garish. It depicts a hut at Ablain St. Nazaire, so striped and checkered with brilliant color that one's first impression is that it is an effort after the manner of the futurist school. In reality it is a truthful representation of "camouflage." The "birdmen" of the enemy had quick eyes, and it was just as necessary to deceive the man in the aeroplane scouting overhead on land as on sea. The hut depicted is as bizarre as the camouflaged ships which became familiar sights during the war. In lesser degree the camouflaged Chateau de la Hai, Camp Vancouver (No. 17), represents the same condition. It is hoped visitors will understand the meaning of these two pictures.

The Scars of War

The others are apparent. The scars of war are plainly visible in almost every one, so anyone seeking the ordinary charm of pastoral scenes will be disappointed. Broken buttresses, dismantled churches, crooked trenches already grown over with weeds and flowers, dreary roads leading past wire entanglements, little villages still dishevelled and broken by war—these are the common story, all very vividly, very tragically told. Order is only to be found in the little spaces where small wooden crosses mark the graves of Canadian soldiers who faced death to save the nation's honor. Mrs. Hamilton has exaggerated nothing, so the men who have been through that part of France say.

MOTORMAN BLAMED FOR FATAL WRECK

PORTLAND, Ore., May 10.—Blame for the collision of two Southern Pacific electric trains near here yesterday, which caused the death of eight persons and the injury of 38 others, five of them seriously, was placed upon Motorman Silas K. Willett, of the inbound train, today by Austin Pharis, conductor of the same train.

Pharis, swathed in bandages at a hospital, said that his train did not stop at Bertha Station according to orders, and that Willett knew of the order to meet the other train at the siding. Willett was killed in the wreck.

COUNCIL INTERESTED IN RAILWAY QUESTION

Local Council of Women Asked by Women's Independent Political League to Urge Referendum on Matter

Preceding a public meeting to be held on Thursday evening under the auspices of the Local Council of Women, the council members will discuss the proposed agreement awaiting settlement between the B. C. Electric Railway Company and the City Council. This was decided upon following the presentation of a resolution by Mrs. Grace Johnson from the Women's Independent Political Association, which asked the Local Council of Women to write to the City Council asking that a referendum be submitted to the electors before the City Council finally decides the matter. It was felt at yesterday's meeting that the question required a little more consideration than time allowed, and so the special meeting was considered most effective.

A committee comprising Miss Winn, Miss Grimmer and Miss Bell was appointed to arrange for a hall for a public meeting, to be called by the Local Council of Women on Thursday evening, May 13, and at which Mr. David Brankin, Provincial Superintendent of Neglected Children, will give an address on "Child Welfare." This meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at a place yet to be announced, and will be preceded by a short session of the council, when the above-mentioned agreement will be discussed.

Want Juvenile Judge.

Mrs. Spofford reported on the progress made by the committee endeavoring to secure the appointment of a judge for the Juvenile Court, stating that the work of the committee was held in abeyance pending the report of the Superintendent of Neglected Children on detention homes. Mrs. A. E. Mitchell read a paper on the shortage of available foodstuffs, advocating as a means of meeting the need, the fuller use of Victoria's available water supply in cultivating more gardens towards increasing food production.

Mrs. R. S. Day was appointed to represent the council at a thrift conference to be held in Calgary shortly. Attention was drawn to an exhibit of art work and domestic science to be held in the Boys' Central School on Friday afternoon and evening from 3:30 to 5 and from 7:30 to 9 o'clock, to which Local Council members were specially invited to attend. Members were also reminded of a garden fete to be held on June 2 at "Gonzales," Rockland Avenue, by the Women's Auxiliary to the Navy League in aid of the funds for the Seamen's Institutes.

Ascot Immodest Dress.

Reporting for the committee appointed by the Local Council to investigate and suggest means of combatting the ever-increasing immodesty in women's dress and the extremes in women's fashions, Mrs. Herchimer advocated inaugurating a uniform for high school girls and boys—the uniform to be a one-piece dress of navy blue for girls and sweaters and trousers for boys, also that addresses be given at regular intervals to school children on morals and eugenics, as well as to groups of girls on the subject of proper dress for every occasion with the intention of inculcating taste and refinement in the growing girl.

Another suggestion was to appeal to men, to brothers and fathers, to husbands and prospective husbands, to discourage openly and honestly the immodesty in women's dress and the extremes in fashions; while still another proposed that the new movement in the United States to create American styles be investigated, and if thought advisable, be encouraged as being more suitable for Anglo-Saxon women. A discussion followed the report, during which many sidelights on the vexing problem were thrown out by members.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¾ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

SCHOOL CHILDREN'S ART DESIGNS GOOD

Interesting Display of "Conventionalized Nature" and of Domestic Science Class Work at Boys' Central.

A remarkably good little collection of art-design work has been assembled in the annex of the Boys' Central School, and on Friday was visited and inspected by the Women's Canadian Club. It is to be on view again next Friday, when the members of the Women's Council and the Island Arts and Crafts Club will be the special guests. But the Board of Trustees is anxious that everyone should have an opportunity of seeing what is being done in the public schools of the city along the lines of instruction in technical art, and extends a cordial invitation to parents and others who are interested to visit the exhibition any Friday afternoon for the next two or three weeks.

Mr. E. B. Paul, City Superintendent of Schools, is of the opinion that nowhere else in Canada can a finer exhibition of work of the kind be seen. Miss Mills, art supervisor of the city schools, is certainly to be congratulated on what has been achieved, the children's originality and imagination finding expression in a great variety of interesting "conventionalizations of nature," flowers, leaves, etc., of ordinary wild flowers being made into formal designs of great beauty and applicability.

Miss Mills has been teaching design for many years. She has been art supervisor of the city schools since 1909. She holds, with many of the other students of the subject, that drawing is the foundation of all the industrial arts. To make this of practical value it would be best to start with the children in the school, she believed. The exhibition now on view shows the results of the system which has been adopted. The pupils begin either with the color chart or nature, and panels of work by the senior grade pupils show how the maple, nasturtium, poplar, alder, willow, geranium, cottonwood, lilac, etc., have been modified to make conventional designs for decorative purposes such as printing chintzes, patterns for silks, wall papers, book covers, etc. The whole process is shown from the moment the pupil makes the free-hand drawing of the flower or leaf up to the moment when it is transformed to the formal design. And the various stages in drawing, color work, etc., in the years leading up to this more advanced point may be traced in the neatly arranged panels.

Pictorial, or free-hand drawing; geometrical, or accurate drawing, and decorative, or design work are carried along side by side in the senior grades, and are the trinity of subjects necessary to the turning out of good design. This year, for the first time, design has been introduced in the intermediate grade.

There are so many interesting groups of work in the exhibition that it takes some time to make the round. Most people will be very interested in the sections which show the lessons on the cube, square, prism, cylinder, cone, pyramid, etc., as all manner of household objects have been evolved by the application of these.

Coupled with this exhibition is an exhibition of work prepared by the Domestic Science pupils of the City schools, of which Miss Dickson is supervisor. Embroidery and needlework of all kinds constitute the display, which is a very gratifying testimony to the neat, practical work which is being done by the girls.

EXPERT TO TALK OF THE CHILD PROBLEM

Mr. Brankin, of Vancouver, Superintendent of Boys' Industrial School, Will Speak Here on Thursday

An address of unusual interest to all those interested in child welfare and in the problems of the care, training and treatment of neglected and delinquent children, will be given by Mr. Brankin, of Vancouver, under the auspices of the Local Council of Women, on Thursday evening, May 13, place to be announced. Mr. Brankin is the superintendent of the Boys' Industrial School and also Provincial Superintendent of Neglected and Delinquent children. Mr. Brankin, who served in the army overseas, received his training for social service work in England, and for the past 22 years has devoted himself to the reclamation of boys and girls who are guilty of such offences as bring them under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court. Twelve years of this time has been spent as probation officer in Vancouver. His broad experience in this work enables him to view the problems of child delinquency from all angles, and he has developed some very unique and original methods of dealing with this phase of the work.

Faith in Children

But greater than the experience and training which Mr. Brankin brings to the work is the great soul of a man who has a sublime faith in all childhood, who believes that results of any value can be obtained only through friendship, understanding sympathy, who believes that arbitrary punishments are not worth the time it takes to administer them, and who holds that first, last and always character building should be the purpose of all institutional life.

Mr. Brankin hopes to spend one-half of the time in open discussion of the problems relating to institutional life and to the interpretation of the British Columbia Infants Act. Opportunity will be given to ask questions on any subject connected with these problems.

The place of the meeting is to be announced later.

LIVED SIX DAYS IN SEALED GLASS BOX

Ordeal Undertaken for Purpose of Settling Thirty-Year-Old Controversy

CAMBRIDGE, May 10.—Joseph Bancroft, a reader of physiology at King's College here, lived for six days in a hermetically sealed glass box. The experiment arose out of a thirty-year-old controversy as to whether it is possible to calculate the amount of oxygen in the blood from a knowledge of the amount of oxygen in the breath. The test was also made to demonstrate whether it was necessary that airmen should have oxygen apparatus when flying at great heights. It proved that oxygen was necessary to flying men, but it did not show to what height they could fly with safety.

While in the box Bancroft kept a record of his sensations and made scientific observations. He said he suffered from sleeplessness, but otherwise did not experience much inconvenience except on the last day, when the atmosphere became extremely rarified. He then had headaches and nausea. He was watched continually while in the box. He took food and slept in two small compartments fitted up with wicker chairs, a table, a couch bed and a bicycle, on which he exercised every morning.

NEW YORKERS LOOK FOR BOXING BOOM

Walker Bill Expected to Increase the Popularity of Ring Sport, But May Add to Promoters' Troubles

NEW YORK, May 10.—These are great days for boxing. When Governor Smith signs the Walker bill boxing in this state will begin to boom in a way that will throw all former records in the shade. Despite continual opposition from professional reformers and many a hard wallop from those who posed as friends of the sport, boxing has continued to grow in popular favor steadily ever since the days of bare knuckles and finished fights.

With the passing of ring battles with the raw 'uns and the advent of the Horton law boxing gained many friends and followers. Years later the Frawley law with its athletic commission and ten-round, no-decision bouts brought about another tremendous boom.

Drew Big Gates

Although many of the greatest battles of ring history were fought under the Horton law, they did not draw so well in those days. But boxing gained so many followers during the period that elapsed between the death of the Horton law and the advent of the Frawley law that under its provisions ten-round no-decision bouts frequently drew more money than the biggest of the Horton law championship contests.

Since the Frawley law was killed boxing has continued to grow, and now it comes back in better guise than ever. The way New Yorkers have flocked over to New Jersey when any bout worth while was scheduled, indicates how great is the interest in the sport. All Winter the Jersey clubs have played to packed houses, and a great percentage of the crowds came from New York.

Demands Will Increase

Fifteen rounds with decisions will add greatly to the interest in the sport, but will add to the troubles of the promoters. The demands of the fighters will increase when they are asked to risk something by boxing to a decision. Jersey promoters are inclined to look upon the no-decision clause of the law in that state as their biggest asset now that New York is to have real boxing. They predict that New York will not get the champions to fight for decisions except on rare occasions, and that if the fans want to see the leading contenders and the title holders in action they still will have to patronize the Jersey clubs.

However, it is not likely to work that way except in a few instances. New York can easily afford to pay higher purses than any other city, and if the stars refuse to fight here they will soon lose their popularity. If a champion continues to dodge liberal offers to box in New York in favor of cheaper purses in Jersey the fans will not take long to get a line on him. He will lose so much of his drawing power that he will not be a big card anywhere.

Fulton Gets Popular

Now that there are rumors of Jack Dempsey fighting again, Fred Fulton has begun to press his claims to a match for the title. Fulton has gained many friends by the way he has disposed of all comers since the day he fell before Dempsey's hard fists, and those who did not see that short but decisive affair, are beginning to take some stock in the tall plasterer. Out on the Far Coast, where Fulton is at present, they say he has improved 100 per cent since he placed himself under the management of Tom O'Rourke. The latter has been able to imbue the tall one with confidence in himself. Confidence was the one thing that Fulton always lacked.

BIG TORONTO CROWD SEES CARPENTIER BOX

TORONTO, May 10.—Four or five thousand persons saw Georges Carpentier box four rounds with his sparring partner, Jules Lenaers, at the Arena, Saturday night, and were greatly impressed by the champion's cleverness. The Frenchman took pains to demonstrate that he is an adept in all phases of the manly art. The attendance was representative of the prominent business men and of fashionable society, including several hundred ladies, gowned as for the theatre.

BECKETT K.O.'s WELLS

LONDON, May 10.—Joe Beckett, the English heavyweight boxer, knocked out Bombardier Wells in the third round of a match for the heavyweight championship of England tonight.

This is the second victory of Beckett over Wells. In their first match, February 27, 1919, Beckett knocked Wells out in the fifth round.

Both men looked fit. Wells forced the pace at the outset and had somewhat the better of the first round. In the second Beckett drove his opponent to the boards with a left jolt for a count of nine, but Wells came back hard.

In the third Beckett again adopted rushing tactics, only to be met by Wells' famous left. But Beckett's strength prevailed and finally he landed a terrific right to the jaw, flooring Wells, who was counted out.

SALMO FONTINALIS IS GETTING SCARCE

Pollution of Eastern Waters Disastrous to Brook Trout —Western Streams Are Still Pure

The brook trout, the beauty of all the trout with his beautiful olive colored back marked somewhat like a turtle, this marking extending up into the dorsal fin, his side shaded to a pink and his belly white, the pectoral, ventral and anal fins a beautiful pink tipped with white. His sides are spotted with red surrounded with light blue and covered with scales so small they can scarcely be seen. The brook trout is one of the gamest little rascals that swims. He seldom leaves the water as other trout do when being played. This little prince of the stream is fast disappearing, due to advancing civilization. In many of our boyhood trout streams and brooks he is totally extinct. This has been brought about by the disappearance of the forests, for as the forests disappear the tiny brooks vanish. In the larger waters industries have robbed the streams of their original pureness by pollution. Federal and State Commissions are doing much to maintain a supply of trout in the larger streams and to keep down contamination. It is hoped that some day pollution problems will be solved and the streams kept clean and pure. This must be done in the East to save our most beautiful game fish. In the West where this little battler has been introduced to the pure mountain streams he has been given a new lease of life. The time may come when outside of a few game and fish preserves of clubs in the East it will be only in the Western parts that brook trout may be found. It is disheartening to think of the passing of the brook trout.

Have a Heart

It is also disheartening to know that your angling record of last year was worse than the year before and this year it may be worse. As we fare forth this Spring let us be a conservationist each and every one, and also be human. When you have netted your quarry your first duty is to kill the fish by striking it on the head with your landing net handle or the back of your knife. A true sportsman and angler will not allow his fish to die a lingering death. Remember that a fish suffocates out of water.

If he is a "little feller" don't look to see if a game warden is hanging around, but turn him loose. First try to let him escape by giving him a loose line. If this is not successful wet your hands thoroughly and, without touching the fishes' gills or squeezing him too hard, remove the hook as gently as possible and instantly release him. If he is too weak to swim against the current hold him with his head up stream for a minute. If you head him down stream the water will run into his gills from behind and drown him.

I have resuscitated fish that were practically dead by the use of salt. This can be done by putting a small portion of salt in the palm of the hand, holding the head of the fish between the thumb and forefinger, and allowing enough water to run in the hand to fill it. Then force the head of the fish down into the salt water. He will soon liven up and dart away.

Never throw a "little feller" back like you would throw a stone. Try and save him. He might give you a lively battle some later day. Who knows? Brook trout are scarce enough. Help them to increase.—By George E. Case.

RACES FOR HEADSHIP OF LEAGUES CLOSE

Boston Nationals Get Into First Place With Onward Rush—Coveleskie Wins Seven Straight

NEW YORK, May 10.—Close races for the leadership of the two major baseball leagues marked the termination yesterday of the first sectional series. This week the Eastern teams of the National League will play in the West, while the American League Western clubs will come East.

The onward rush of the Boston Nationals combined with the setbacks received by Cincinnati, Brooklyn and Philadelphia, the early pace setters, put the Braves in first place. The Chicago Americans also fell back and Cleveland, which ousted the White Sox from first place, will engage Boston this week in a four-game series, with the honored position at stake. The Red Sox led the league for a few days.

In the National League, Boston followed up its 26-inning record-breaking game of the previous week with a 13-inning victory over Brooklyn last Monday and an 11-inning success over Philadelphia Wednesday.

The Braves won their sixth straight game yesterday. Cincinnati fielded poorly and in three contests was unable to score. The Reds lost a game to Pittsburg, two out of three with Chicago, but won the odd game with St. Louis.

Brooklyn, which engaged in five extra inning games in the last seven contests, including yesterday's overtime victory over Philadelphia, played a total of 98 innings in all the games.

Chicago Wins

Chicago captured the deciding contest yesterday of a five-game series with Pittsburg. Chicago and New York each had its first winning week of the season.

In the American League, Cleveland was defeated Monday by Detroit, which had lost 13 straight games since the start of the season. The Indians lost to the Tigers again Tuesday, but took four out of five from Chicago, including yesterday's game, which marked Coveleski's seventh straight victory.

Boston Americans broke even last week, losing two out of three to New York and reversing the result with Philadelphia.

Washington climbed up the league ladder by outplaying Philadelphia and New York. St. Louis amassed a total of 80 hits, a weekly record, but was successful only three times in seven games. The Browns took the rubber game yesterday from Detroit.

LADY CHAMPION WINS STROKE COMPETITION

NEWCASTLE, County Down, Ireland, May 10.—Miss Cecil Leitch, British woman's golf champion, won the ladies' golf stroke competition today with a score of 84. Miss A. C. Mackenzie, of Toronto, was fifth with 88 strokes.

Appearance of the American entrants in the preliminary to the British ladies' golf championship tournament aroused great interest. An accident to Roseamond Sherwood, who ran a stake into her foot while vaulting a fence, has discouraged the Americans, who believe her elimination greatly reduces their chances to win.

THE SQUARED CIRCLE

CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 9.—Harry Schuman knocked out Harry Lub, of Denver, in the fourth round here last night.

Four champion Filipino boxers are coming to America to seek laurels in the roped arena. They are Pug Macario, Teddy Tango, Cortezo and Iron Bux. They should keep the boxing public busy trying to remember their names even if they can't fight very well.

For the third time the meeting between Bob Martin and Ray Smith has been postponed. An injury to Smith's ulna bone in training forced the match into the discard when it looked like a $30,000 house would be sold in Kansas City.

CHICAGO, May 8.—Pal Moore, the Memphis bantam, meets Carl Tremaine Tuesday night at Cleveland in a ten-round bout. Tremaine is the fellow who recently knocked out Frankie Mason, American flyweight champion, in one round.

JEFF SMITH ANNEXES MIDDLEWEIGHT TITLE

PARIS, May 9.—Jeff Smith, of Bayonne, N. J., knocked out the French middleweight, Ercolt de Balsac, in three rounds last night, winning the middleweight championship of France. Smith's victory was easily won, De Balsac being outclassed. The greatest crowd since the Johnson-Moran bout watched the contest.

WILLIAM VANDERBILT IS BIGGEST WINNER

PARIS, May 10.—William K. Vanderbilt heads the list of winning owners in flat racing in France with 240,000 francs won in stakes. A. Macomber is sixth with 90,000 francs. Frank O'Neill, of St. Louis, is the leading jockey of the French turf, with 31 winning mounts.

AUBURN, N.Y., May 10.—Pacific International Baseball League has qualified for membership in Class B of the National Association of professional baseball leagues, secretary John H. Farrell, announced here Saturday. The territory of the league embraces Seattle, Spokane, Tacoma, Yakima, and Vancouver and Victoria, B. C.

PRO GOLFERS AGAINST THE STANDARD BALL

Jim Barnes Very Emphatic in Opposing Any Scheme to Limit His Long Drives

So far as the professional golfers are concerned there is every reason to believe that they will align themselves with those against the standard ball. For instance, Jim Barnes has come out emphatically against reducing the flying power of the rubber core, but he admits that course builders deserve protection and that no further effort should be made to invent balls that will outdistance the best one of today. He believes, however, that it would be a mistake to attempt to carry golf back a dozen years by legislating a shorter flight ball into the game.

Barnes also stated that he would undertake to have the Professional Golfers' Association write to the joint meeting of the American and British rule makers, expressing the P. G. A.'s satisfaction with the present day golf balls and against legislation for a standard of lesser flying power.

It is the general opinion that this projected conclave of American and British committees to get together on the standard ball and other questions will result in a compromise so far as the rubber core is concerned. Any effort to force a standard which is not up to the longest of the far-flying ball now in use will meet with stubborn resistance by such a large number of "pros" and low mark amateurs that it is likely to fail.

SLOVAKS AND SLAVS PLAN ATHLETIC MEET

GENEVA, May 10.—The Czecho-Slovaks and Jugo-Slavs have arranged for athletic games at Prague during the coming Summer, patterned after the Olympics. Five nations, including France and the United States, are said to have sent entries. A huge grandstand at Prague is under construction.

VANCOUVER, May 10.—Horse racing meets will take place here September 11 to 18, during exhibition week, under the auspices of the Western Canada Fairs Association.

PRINCETON ATHLETES INVITED TO ENGLAND

PRINCETON, N.J., May 10.—Princeton has been invited to send its track team to England late in June or early in July of this year, to meet the track teams of Oxford and Cambridge in London.

Cricket Meeting

A meeting will be held this evening at 8 p.m. of the Comrades Cricket Club. All intending players are earnestly requested to attend, also any returned men who are interested in cricket are invited to be present. The meeting will be held at the Comrades' clubrooms.

ASSAULT CHARGED BY BASEBALL PRESIDENT

Roy Hurlburt Barred From Park Alleged to Have Struck McCarthy After Altercation at San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—A complaint charging Roy Hurlburt with assaulting him "with intent to do great bodily harm" was sworn out today by William H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast Baseball League following differences between Hurlburt and himself over alleged gambling on baseball games.

Hurlburt was one of three men who were ordered barred from the local baseball park in a statement issued by McCarthy after demanding an explanation of the statement. He denied all knowledge of gambling.

'VARSITY TRACK MEETS

SEATTLE, May 10.—University of Oregon won the annual dual track meet with University of Washington on University field here on Saturday by a score of 68 points to 64. Although no records were smashed, the time in several events ranged in the vicinity of the record mark.

Penn. Beat Dartmouth

PHILADELPHIA, May 10—Pennsylvania defeated Dartmouth in a dual track meet Saturday, 73½ to 44½ points.

SPECIAL FOOTBALL MEETING TONIGHT

A special meeting of the B. C. F. A. will be held in the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 o'clock tonight for the purpose of discussing the action to be taken at the general meeting in Vancouver on Thursday. All clubs in the city are requested to have their delegates at the meeting, as there is business of an important nature to be discussed.

HALF-HOLIDAY FOR BASEBALL OPENING

Declaration of a civic half-holiday to celebrate the opening of the Pacific International League baseball season in Victoria Tuesday, May 18, was decided upon last night by the City Council. The suggestion that a half holiday be granted was contained in a letter from President J. T. O'Brien, of the Victoria Club. As the Council believes in encouraging every form of athletics here and also takes special pride in the big new stadium that will be the home of the Capital City team, it will endeavor to have the holiday generally observed.

BILL LEARD IS BUSY STRENGTHENING CAPS

Gives the Weak Members Their Cheques and Bids Them Farewell—Other Players Are Signed

During the first week on the road a number of changes were made in the personnel of the Capitals. The best that Bill Leard could do was to cop two out of the five games played in Tacoma. But this wasn't good enough for him. Bill wanted two wins in every three starts, and that's what the directors of the local club want, and they have instructed the playing manager to get together a combination that will be able to turn the trick. Acting on instructions, Leard has started the weeding-out process and is strengthening the team with new players of better calibre.

The weakest department in the Capitals was discovered behind the bat. Cunningham has not got the rheumatics out of his throwing arm and cannot get the ball to second fast enough to prevent a lot of base-stealing. Prisco Edwards also failed to pick off the base-runners. Leard looked about for a new catcher and put his hands on Kelley, a man with a good record. Kelley is now doing the catching and Edwards has been released.

After Dempsey had played a couple of games at first base, Leard made up his mind to dispense with the services of "Chuck" Edwards, who came up from Portland with all kinds of recommendations, but failed to show anything. Dempsey is a flashy left-hander and hits well.

The Victoria string of pitchers has been reduced by the release of Mitchell, a big rangy youth, who was tried out in a game against Bremerton and failed to show anything more than a lot of awkward motion and a pair of long arms.

This week the Capitals are playing in Yakima, and there will be other releases unless some of the weak members show something. Jack Goldie is hanging on, but he has been replaced in left field by "Toots" Brown, who covers a lot of ground. Goldie has not been hitting well. Leard is anxious to have a hard-hitting outfield, and unless Jack finds his batting eye he will probably join the band of disappointments.

The switching of the batting order has produced good results. Leard is a good lead-off man and replaces Elliott, who is dropped to a lowly position in the batting order. Carman has all the prospects of being a big hitter before the season is over, and Leard has put him in the clean-up position. Carman hits very hard and most of his drives are for extra bases.

"I have little to say on the parade as yet; it's been mostly missionary work the past few days," said Lieut. Bob Webb yesterday afternoon, when questioned as to whether or not he had anything to say on the parade.

Yesterday afternoon Bob, who is organizing the big parade, was busy with his plans. He is enlisting the support of the merchants and business men in this city.

"We have adopted the slogan of Seven thousand or over as the mark for attendance," said Bob, "and I'm quite sure that we will have it. The people in town are talking baseball and just fuming and fuming, waiting for the season to open. It wouldn't surprise me if the park failed to hold the crowd. That's what I'm hoping for, anyway."

The features of the parade will be made public by the organizer in a day or two.

"I am quite satisfied with the way the team showed in Tacoma," said Jack O'Brien, president of the Victoria club. "Leard has his instructions to bring home a winning club, and I think he is going about it in the proper manner. He is bolstering up the weak points and I don't think anyone need worry very much. Leard is the best manager in this league. He's a man who gets results."

WITH THE DIAMOND STARS

Have you sent in your guess in The Colonist attendance guessing competition? Hurry up if you haven't.

The first week in the Pacific International League breezed by without anything startling happening. Seattle proved weak, losing the whole series to Vancouver. All the other teams came close to an even break.

Bob Brown and the Beavers will have a test when they run into the Tigers this week. The Tacoma team is travelling fast and the Beavers will not find them as easy as the Giants.

Everyone is out buying a new straw hat for the opening game here next Tuesday. The fans figure they are cheaper to break than a Derby.

Our warm-blooded friend, Bob Brown, will be here next week, and he's due for a lot of ragging. The fans always delight in throwing the hooks into the ginger-locked manager.

Seattle is scouting around for a bunch of new players to strengthen their line-up. They appear very weak in the pitching staff. Bert Fitchner seems unable to do anything, although he has the speed of an express train.

A run over the Malahat and Summit Drive and along the shores of beautiful Shawnigan Lake, and lunch at Strathcona Lodge.

Staff-Sergt. Reid and Major F. Richardson Win First Two Places in Elimination Shoot on Saturday

VANCOUVER, May 10. — With scores of 217 and 215, respectively, Sergt.-Major E. J. Reid and Major Fred Richardson, both of Victoria, were high men in the elimination rifle shoot at Richmond on Saturday. Their names will be forwarded to Ottawa as British Columbia's representatives on the Canadian Bisley team.

The conditions were seven rounds at 200, 500 and 600 yards in the morning and ten rounds at the same ranges in the afternoon. There was plenty of excitement in the contest, which assumed a see-saw character as it progressed.

Major Blair, 72nd Vancouver Regiment, led at the 200 and 500 yards, making the fine total of 33 and 31—64, and leading the field by a wide margin. The major looked like a sure winner; he had a nemesis, however, who, though nine points in arrears, just plastered the bullseye at 600 with ten consecutive shots, making a new record with the S.M.L.E. and service sights. Major F. Richardson, O.B.E., just cinched first place in the morning by making up the deficit and getting one ahead, finishing with 90, the other scores being Major Blair 89, Lieut. Smelzer 88, Staff-Sergt. Reid 86.

The afternoon saw another change in the positions, Staff-Sergt. Reid forging ahead and passing Major Richardson, eventually winning by 2 points, the first four finishing as follows:

Staff-Sergt. Reid (Victoria) 219.
Major F. Richardson (Victoria) 217.
Lieut. Smelzer (Vancouver) 216.
Major Blair (Vancouver) 214.

The two Victoria marksmen thus won first chance to visit the famous battleground of all rifle shots.

For the first time in the history of tennis in America and Canada, the Doubles Championship of the U. S. A. will be played under an elimination process, by the various sections of the country playing off and the winners of each section going to New York to play the finals. The North Pacific Doubles Championship is to be considered as a section, therefore players winning that event are entitled to compete for the U. S. Doubles at New York. The Pacific Northwest Championship at Tacoma from August 2 to 7 is an entirely different event.

TENNIS PLAYERS TURN OUT IN GOOD FORCE

Between forty and fifty tennis enthusiasts enjoyed themselves Saturday afternoon on the Victoria Club courts, the three grass courts which were opened and the cinder court being kept fully occupied from 2:30 to 6 p.m. Despite the little shower in the morning the grass courts played well. It is expected that four additional courts will be in play by next Saturday afternoon. Tea will be served on that occasion at the usual time. Mrs. Ingram will again be in charge.

A Long Drop

SEATTLE, May 10.—Harry Davis, who brought his young athletes of the Waverley Country Club here yesterday to battle with the Seattle Golf Club team, relates an interesting construction one golfer of Portland puts on the "dropped ball" rule.

Waverley, Portland Golf Club and Tualatin Golf Club, the three Portland golfing organizations, met recently in a tri-club match. A Tualatin player, informed that his ball out of bounds entitled him to drop a ball over his shoulder, turned his back to the objective green and, taking a full arm swing, hurled the ball over his shoulder towards the green. He got about seventy-five yards.

TUNEFUL MUSIC AND COMEDY AT PANTAGES

Programme This Week Includes Three of Topline Honors and Other Equally Worthy Offerings

Tuneful music and comedy of the most pleasing variety, fresh, crisp and sparkling, epitomizes this week's bill at the Pantages. The programme possesses no less than three headline features and these are supported by three more high-class turns and the fourth episode of "The Adventures of Ruth" serial, to make a remarkably well-balanced and highly entertaining aggregation of entertainment matter.

The programme opened with a singing act, followed by a dramatic playlet, another singing act, a pretty singing and dancing number with a Dutch setting, a ventriloquial number and closed with a talkoid comedy featuring Billy Kelly and Boyd Warren with six clever girls.

The last-named act, "His Taking Way," was one of the best of its nature that has been seen at the Pantages in many weeks. It was a musical satire on the movies, and Billy Kelly kept the house in continuous good humor by his droll mannerisms and taking ways. The young women were given more than the average share in the success of such acts, and altogether the offering was a decided success.

The singing and comedy-playlet called "Lemon Love," in which Carita and Dick Lewis rendered an assortment of classical and popular songs, including some to the accompaniment of rag, was a feature of the bill. The principals were spirited and both had pleasing voices. The stage setting was elaborate and beautiful.

Nevins and Gordon, man and woman, appeared in "A Holland Hallowe'en," and to the vivacious acting of the young woman in the act is due much of the credit for the enjoyment of the entire bill. She flitted in and off the stage, with a change of costume each time, and her clever dancing made her a favorite. The special scenery carried for the act enhanced its popularity.

Willa Holt Wakefield, with her everyday songs for everyday folks, received a "good hand," while Walter and Emily Walters, in the ventriloquial offering, gave the audience something quite original in this old standby of vaudeville.

Abrahams and Johns, in the dramatic playlet, "The Unexpected Widow," which has been seen in Victoria before, have improved their act since last here, and the number has lost none of its interest and strength.

On the moving picture screen the third episode of "The Adventures of Ruth" proved to be as exciting and interesting as the preceding chapters.

Royal Victoria—"The Girl From Outside."

ROYAL VICTORIA Alaska is a country which offers a never-ending source of fertility to the imagination of Rex Beach. In "The Girl From Outside," his latest picture, which is now showing at the Royal Victoria Theatre, he never overlaps on any of his previous Northern themes. The story of a girl who, orphaned on her way to Nome, Alaska, finds herself set down there in a time when riot and vice ran rampant, is a powerful presentation of life in the wild and woolly North of Klondike days. That peculiar "punch" which is associated with the written and screen productions of Rex Beach is never missing in this newer tale. There is a variety of action working logically and swiftly against the background of snow and greed and gold. The psychology of five crooks is developed relentlessly; as is their progression to a better state of life when they come under the radiant influence of June, the "girl from outside." Their leader ultimately sacrifices himself for her. The point is that they do not "reform," they change; their outlook is altered fundamentally. As a presentation of the life of a dead era and of the mental and physical life of many characters, this new picture takes a high rank among motion-picture classics.

VARIETY THEATRE "Man's Desire," starring Lewis S. Stone, distributed by Exhibitors Mutual, is a vivid drama of the timber country with a "kick" in every reel, and is showing at Variety Theatre.

By "kick" is meant punch, and following out that line of thought "Man's Desire" at the present time, in some instances, seems to be concentrated on something with a "kick" and a "punch" to it. The k and p in this galvanic drama, however, leave no headache in their wake. The "desire" of Tom Denton was a normal, healthy and manly craving—to make a good woman happy. Tom had other desires, too, which were more or less praiseworthy. One was to "get" the scoundrel who had killed his brother in cold blood and had terrorised the girl Tom wished to make happy, into a compulsory marriage. Tom Denton was a "straight shooter" in everything. He played square with his partner whose wife tried to vamp him. He played square with the girl whose brute of a husband mistreated her. He was a "straight shooter"—and a fast one—when he came up with "Bull" Larkin and "got" him with his shooter.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Constance Talmadge, Select's charming and winsome star, is ably directed in her latest Select Picture, "Experimental Marriage," by Robert G. Vignola, whose name on a production is the sign of a good picture. Mr. Vignola had a stage career of seven years, during which time he played in Shakespearean drama. He has also had a wide and varied career as a director, producing many successful pictures, including Clara Kimball Young in "The Reason Why" and "The Claw;" "The Vampire," "The Reward of Patience," "Great Expectations," "The Fortunes of Fifi," "Her Better Self" and "The Love That Lives." His skilful handling of the vivacious comedy-plus-drama, "Experimental Marriage," in which Constance Talmadge is presented by Lewis J. Selznick and which can be seen at the Columbia Theatre, stamps him as one of the foremost directors of the day. "Experimental Marriage," which is an adaptation of the stage play, "Saturday to Monday," by William J. Hurlbut, is a farce story of a woman's liberty after marriage, and is full of sprightly humor. Constance Talmadge is excellent in the characterization of Suzanne Brazil, the widow who feared to marry again because she thought she would be compelled to sacrifice two years of her dearly prized liberty. Popular Harrison Ford again plays opposite Miss Talmadge. Walter Hiers, Vera Steam, Berthe Chapman, Mayn Kelso and Raymond Hatton complete the cast.

AUTO RACE MEETING WILL BE BIG EVENT

Speedsters From All Parts of Northwest to Compete at Willows Track on May 22—Dealers Behind Scheme

Local motor dealers are now busy preparing for the race meeting Saturday, May 22, which promises to be the greatest of its kind ever held on a dirt track in the Pacific Northwest.

The work of putting the track into first-class condition has started and is progressing most satisfactorily, and within a week or ten days will be ready for tryouts. Mr. Robert Hillier, of Tacoma, who is bringing the speed kings to Victoria, states that he expects several entries from California.

The race meet will not only be an international affair, but will bring together the greatest number of speed kings and fast-driving cars that have ever assembled at a dirt track meet in the Pacific Northwest. The cars will reach here in prime condition, ready to race, and every driver will have had from two to ten years' experience in the racing game. They will race under special rules of the Victoria Auto Dealers' Association and the racing rules of the American Automobile Association.

Every car that will race at the Willows will have its own friends and followers who will come over to root for their favorite. Word has been received that the two Vancouver cars will bring over a large contingent to boost for the Canadian cars, both of which are known to have all kinds of speed and power, and it is the first time that the American speeders have gone up against real Canadian racing creations.

Every possible precaution will be taken for the comfort and safety of the spectators, and with the experience of last year's meet, the Auto Dealers' Association feels certain of giving the spectators a day of thrills.

NAZIMOVA PLAYS ROLE OF LONDON MUSIC HALL DANCER

Playing the fascinating role of a London music hall dancer who finds romance in the heart of India, the superb Nazimavo is at the Dominion Theatre this week. The Russian star's newest screen vehicle is entitled "Stronger Than Death," and advance accounts of the production describe it as the most ambitious yet done by Nazimavo.

"Stronger Than Death" is a screen adaptation of the brilliant novel by J. A. R. Wylie. It is a story of a beautiful and poetic love, which develops between a man and a woman placed by fate into an atmosphere of danger and swiftly moving events. Stirring drama at all times illumines the narrative, making it one of those stories that gets a strong hold upon the emotions of the spectator.

Briefly, it concerns one Sigrid Forsen, favorite of Paris and London theatres, who arrives in an English army barracks town deep in the jungles of India. She meets a hostile reception from the small and gossipy community of British, but her personality wins them after her first test.

She falls in love with a physician, known as the hermit doctor, who is devoting his life to treating the native Hindus during an epidemic of cholera. Because of the harshness of the British commander of the post, and a wrong he had committed against "the bride of Vishnu," a sacred dancer of the temple, the native troops, incited by the high priest of the temple, plan a revolt.

On the night the uprising is to take place, with a massacre of the whites as its object, Sigrid goes to the temple steps to dance in the moonlight, as her lover had often dreamed of her doing. Her lithe figure in flowing white, like the natives with awe, and believing her to be the reincarnation of the deified "bride of Vishnu," they fall down to worship her. She dances until she is exhausted, in order to hold the blacks from their contemplated revolt, and by so doing enables British reinforcements to get up and save the situation.

CANADIAN SINGER IS PROUD OF FACT

Mrs. Macdonald Fahey, Who Is Giving Recital on May 20, Sang to British Crews in New York.

Wherever she sings Mrs. Macdonald Fahey, who is to appear here in recital at the Royal Victoria Theatre on May 20, never forgets that her home is the Pacific Coast and that she is, first and last a Canadian.

When in a foreign country she tried never to overlook an opportunity of singing the characteristic British songs she loves so well.

In New York last Winter British crews were working away on the German vessels commandeered and turned over to the British Admiralty. Several times she sang before these sailors and on each occasion wound up the programme with "Rule Britannia." Invariably her sailor audience joined in the singing and after the applause died down one could hear the strains of "God Save the King" pealing forth from the throats of the husky British tars.

VIOLINIST'S RECITAL A MUSICAL EVENT

Miss Mary Izard, Playing With Mrs. Gertrude Huntley Green Thursday, Appeared in Prince Rupert

The following appreciation of the playing of Miss Mary Izard, who is appearing in joint recital with Mrs. Gertrude Huntley Green, at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Thursday evening, appeared recently in the Prince Rupert press after a recital she gave there:

The appearance of Miss Mary Izard on the concert platform last evening was an event in local musical circles.

An artiste, with more complete mastery of her art, and with a more pleasing and winsome stage presence, has never been seen in this city.

As a violinist, Miss Izard possesses a gift and a power of execution that held her audience as though under a spell. A selection from Verdi's "Il Trovatore" was her opening number, and every succeeding one but made those privileged to hear her, eager for more.

The Westholme was crowded, and it is safe to say the building never held a more appreciative audience.

Mrs. Dalby Morkill's singing was, as usual, greatly enjoyed, as well as Mr. Will Edmunds' 'cello selections, and the orchestral playing.

Miss Izard, whose home is London, England, and who is visiting her brother in Victoria, left last evening for Anyox, accompanied by Mrs. Morkill.

WATCH YOUR GUMS—BLEEDING A SIGN OF TROUBLE

Medical science knows how serious is the sign of bleeding gums. For it knows that tender and bleeding gums are the fore-runners of Pyorrhea, that dread disease which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

If the disease is unchecked, the gum-line recedes, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the Pyorrhea poisons generated at their base—poisons which seep into the system and wreck the health. They cause rheumatism, nervous disorders, anaemia and many other ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums. Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult your dentist immediately for special treatment.

BOUGHT AT TAX SALE; WANTS MONEY BACK

Alderman Waxes Sarcastic at Injured Innocent Who Thought to Buy $4,000 House for $400

"Messrs. Elliott, Maclean & Shandley, acting for Mr. I. M. Nodek, yesterday threatened the City Council with legal action to recover the money he paid out for a lot purchased at a recent tax sale.

"Our client informs us that he purchased this property at a tax sale when it was announced that there were improvements on the land to the value of $4,500, and if this is a fact and there are no buildings on the land we do not see why you refuse to refund the money," wrote the legal firm.

"Anyone who is foolish enough to think he can buy $4,000 improvements for $400 at any kind of a sale, must think we are all crazy," commented Ald. Andros, in suggesting that City Solicitor H. S. Pringle defend the action. The proposal was endorsed by the Council.

CHURCHES MAY BE USED AS SCHOOLS

Saanich School Board Seeks Means of Providing Accommodation for Fall—Several Schemes Put Forth

Churches may be used for school purposes in Saanich, commencing with the Fall term. The attendance in April was the greatest in the history of the municipality, 1,576 children being recorded as present.

Discussing the future, the Saanich School Board members agreed that the situation demanded quite an increase in accommodation for the Fall term. The number of children in Saanich is steadily increasing.

Trustee Diggon pointed out the serious situation at the Tillicum School where, he said, one class was jammed into the principal's office. Hats and coats were thrown on the floor and radiators, the trustee claimed. The door was taken off a cupboard to allow two pupils to sit at the teacher's desk. The desks were not fastened down and slid all over the place. "A firetrap," remarked Chairman Coates. "It's terrible," added Trustee Diggon.

To Acquire a Church

The possibilities of acquiring a church nearby was discussed last night. It was finally left to Trustee Diggon to work out a plan for the Tillicum difficulty.

"What are we going to do with the additional 200 children we are going to have after the Summer holidays?" queried Chairman Coates after other business had been settled. The construction of classrooms in basements and the renting of churches was discussed. Chairman Coates will investigate the possibility of renting a church to help out the Mackenzie Avenue school accommodation.

The Gary system of schools, literature concerning which has been procured by the Board, will be gone into before any decision is reached on plans for Fall term accommodation. The Gary system provides for shifts which allow for the educating of many more pupils in the same building than is possible in the ordinary way.

ANNIVERSARY OF CENTENNIAL CHURCH

Reports Show Substantial Gains in Membership and in Amount of Ordinary Collections

The anniversary services of the Centennial Methodist Church, which commenced on Sunday, were continued last evening, when a large gathering listened to an address by Dean Quainton, of Christ Church Cathedral. Mr. N. Shakespeare occupied the chair.

Report on Year's Work

The reports of the church officials show that the year just closed has been a most successful one. There have been thirty families united with the church, including fifty-eight members. The total contributions of the congregation show an increase of $3,628 over last year. The ordinary collections at the church services show an increase of $1,747. During the year the pastor's salary was increased by $500. The reports from the various departments of the church have been satisfactory, and the number of young people attending the church is probably greater than ever before. The spiritual condition of the church is healthy, and the prospects for the coming year are most encouraging.

The Sunday Services

The thirty-fifth anniversary of the Sunday School was held Sunday in the auditorium of the church, when the Sunday School choir of over two hundred voices, under the direction of Mr. J. W. Treen and assisted by a twelve-piece orchestra, rendered very appropriate music at both morning and evening services, the pastor, Rev. J. L. Batty, addressed a large gathering assembled for the occasion. Rev. W. M. Scott, of James Bay Methodist Church, spoke to the school in the afternoon. The children of the primary and junior departments, under the direction of their very able teachers, gave the congregation of over four hundred persons a very interesting programme.

Chorea—St. Vitus' Dance

When children's nerves become starved and exhausted their trouble usually takes the form of Chorea, St. Vitus' Dance or Convulsions.

Rapid growth—physiological changes—urgent school work and examinations mean a tremendous strain on the nervous system of the child who is naturally of a nervous temperament.

The child becomes fretful and irritable. Restless, wriggling movements of the limbs and face—inability to sit still—tendency to drop things from the hands tell of the development of these troubles.

Later, speech is affected and there is irregular twitching of the muscles, squinting of the eyes and other indications of loss of control of the muscles.

Rest in bed in a bright airy room with cheerful companionship and the absence of anything to irritate or excite the nerves is the ideal condition for recovery.

Since the nervous system is completely starved and exhausted it is essential that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food should be used regularly and persistently to build up the depleted nerve cells.

Instead of dwelling on the merits of this well-known food cure we shall refer you to the letters quoted here which tell of actual results accomplished.

St. Vitus Dance

Mrs. Wm. Matt, Cordova, Man., writes:

"My little girl, ten years old, was not very well, and I noticed some rather odd ways about her. She used to act very strangely at times. I asked the doctor what could be the matter, and he said she had St. Vitus' Dance, to keep her quiet and out of school. He said treatments weren't any use for her. She was affected in this way for a year. I thought something ought to be done, so in looking over Dr. Chase's Almanac I read several testimonials from people who had used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I sent for six boxes, and started this treatment with my daughter. Before she had finished the first box I could see a great change in her, and by the time she had taken the six boxes, she was completely cured. She is real well now, and going to school every day."

Twitching Nerves

Mrs. M. E. Robson, 170 Dublin St., Peterboro, Ont., writes:

"When about the age of 14 or 15 my daughter was on the verge of nervous break-down. She had a very poor appetite, lost all her color, and at times had a twitching of the nerves in her limbs. I secured some of Dr. Chases Nerve Food and gave her a treatment, using five or six boxes. The results were splendid, entirely curing her of her nervous trouble, and restoring her appetite. I find Dr. Chase's Nerve Food a splendid Spring tonic, and best results to be found by taking some of the Kidney-Liver Pills at the same time."

St. Vitus' Dance

Mr. S. F. Flarity, Wiarton, Ont., writes:

"My daughter, eleven years of age, was in a run down condition, and suffered from a nervousness which showed a tendency toward St. Vitus' Dance. I got a few boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for her, and by the time she had taken three boxes there was a big change in her. She is much stronger, and her system in general is built up. She has recovered from her nervous weakness, and you could not detect a trace of it now. I gladly recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to anyone suffering from nervousness of any kind."

Convulsions

Mrs. Xavier Albert, St. Francois, N. B., writes:

"My daughter, Imelda, was troubled for four years with nervousness. Almost every night, she used to take nervous convulsions. We took her to a doctor, but he did not do her any good. Finally we began to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and gradually the convulsions were less and less frequent, until they disappeared altogether. It was two years ago that she used the Nerve Food, and six boxes completely cured her. We are very grateful for what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done for her."

MISSIONARY SHOT BY HIS ASISSTANT

SEATTLE, May 10.—The Rev. A. R. Hoare, Episcopal missionary at Point Hope, Alaska, 175 miles north of Nome, was shot and killed April 27 by James Macguire, aged 18, his assistant, according to radio advices received here today.

Macguire's father, James Macguire, Sr., chief of the Northwest Alaska District of the Bureau of Education, placed his son under arrest and started with him for Candle, 150 miles south, where a deputy marshal has offices.

Young Macguire is believed to have been insane, the dispatch said. He went to Alaska from Los Angeles last year.

MORE WORKERS ARE ORDERED OUT

French Labor Federation Seeks to Paralyze All Public Utilities — Electrical Plant Men to Cease Work

PARIS, May 10.—The French General Federation of Labor announced tonight that the electrical plant workers would be ordered to go on strike to strengthen the walkout on transportation lines, intended to force nationalization of public utilities. Employees of the Metropolitan subways have been ordered to strike tomorrow.

The Government's forecast that all railroad workers on strike would be back at work today was not realized, and neither were the somewhat extravagant contrary claims of the federation, for the railroads all reported operating trains on more or less normal schedules. Fifty thousand out of 200,000 metal workers in the Paris regions are reported idle.

The strike movement among miners appears to be spreading, especially in the northern fields. The strike of the seamen and dockers remains unchanged.

Frequent clashes occurred between taxicab drivers who were ready to run their machines and strikers. Tramways are working regularly, but remain within the walls of Paris and do not enter the suburbs. Men operating them are not attended, as on May Day, by police or soldiers. Autobuses continue to circulate and there have been no attempts of violence them.

FISH INSPECTION BILL KILLED IN COMMITTEE

OTTAWA, May 10.—Bill 55, to amend the fish inspection act in regard to uniformity of containers, inspection and grading of fish, affecting both the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts, died an unnatural death in committee this morning. So far as this session is concerned, members of the Marine and Fisheries Committee claim that the bill is gone beyond recall.

This is the first bill killed this session, and it is said to be the first killed in a similar manner in many years.

After the committee had proceeded for some time last week, the chairman's attention was called to lack of a quorum. Then a motion for the committee to rise was carried.

An attempt to revive the bill this morning failed. R. E. Wigmore's motion that the committee approve the principle of the bill was defeated, 7 to 6. F. J. Pelletier, Matane, Que., moved that the "chairman do now leave the chair," was carried and the members left the room, killing the bill for the present session.

LIBERALS REGRET LEAMINGTON ROW

Men in Both Sections Believe Mistake Was Made in the Treatment of Ministers—New Party Advocated

LONDON, May 10.—"Liberalism indeed split with a loud crack at Leamington," declares one commentator on Friday's Liberal Federation meeting when Coalition Liberal Ministers were refused a hearing. There is a fairly general disposition now by both sections to regret the turn which events have taken.

The Manchester Guardian, Independent Liberalism's chief exponent, describes the whole affair as a little humiliating, not to say discreditable, and maintains that coalition without Mr. Lloyd George would perish promptly, and coalition will come to an end in any case. The Guardian, therefore, regrets the Leamington fiasco, more particularly because Independent Liberals gave no chance to their coalitionist former comrades to show whether there was any real desire for reunion with the rest of the Liberal party.

J. L. Garvin, in The Observer, declares that Mr. Lloyd George's ministerial Liberal colleagues who were drummed out with catcalls at Leamington, are far and away superior in every kind of Parliamentary talent and fighting energy to any equal number of ex-Premier Asquith's lieutenants. The Independent Liberals, he declared, have learned nothing from the bitter vicissitudes of the last four years. They had nothing but a hymn of hate at Leamington for the Prime Minister.

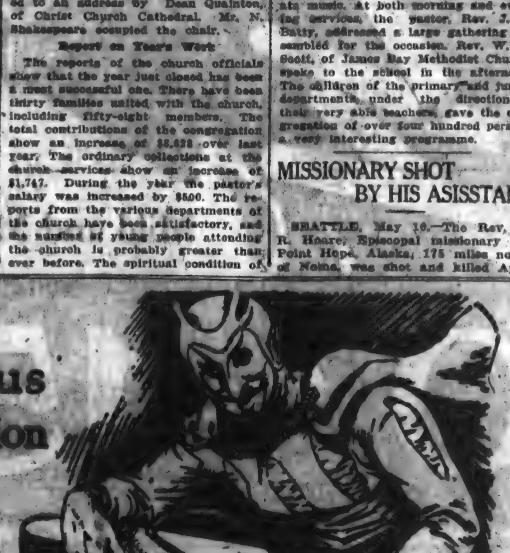

"Mr. Lloyd George's business," continues Mr. Garvin, "is to found a new party, with a new name, which would attract the millions of hitherto unattached electors who hold the casting vote in public life."

WHEAT BOARD STATUS NOT YET DECIDED

OTTAWA, May 10.—The Government has not yet contemplated renewing the term of office of the wheat board, Sir George Foster informed the House this afternoon, in answer to a question by Major G. W. Andrews, Centre Winnipeg. The term of the present wheat board expires when the entire wheat crop of 1919 has been marketed, probably about September 1 next.

Full payment on participation certificates can not be made until all the crop has been marketed and the payments and expenses have been adjusted. Farmers holding the certificates can reasonably count on receiving at least 40 cents a bushel in cash payment for the certificates, Sir George stated.

Vancouver Woman Says Dyspepsia and Headaches Are Gone Since She Took Taniac

"I had taken but a few doses of Taniac when I realized that I had at last found the right thing for my troubles," declared Mrs. M. Meares, 1847 Second Avenue, Vancouver, B. C., in telling of her experience with the medicine.

"For a year or more I had suffered from stomach trouble, and until I began taking Taniac had been unable to find anything that did me a particle of good. I had no appetite, and it often made me sick to even look at anything to eat. After almost every meal I became badly nauseated, and it was often impossible for me to retain a thing. My food lay heavy and turned sour in my stomach. I would bloat up with gas until I could hardly breathe, and my heart palpitated so bad that at times it actually frightened me. Then, too, I had an awful choking sensation, just like there was a lump in my throat that I could neither get up or down. My kidneys worried me a great deal, and I suffered with intense pains in the small of my back nearly all the time. I was always badly constipated, had such severe headaches I could hardly stand them, and at times became so dizzy it was all I could do to stand on my feet. My sleep did not seem to do me any good, and I always got up feeling tired and exhausted. I had little life or energy left, and when I started taking Taniac was in such a badly rundown, weakened condition I was barely able to do my housework.

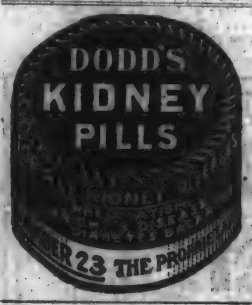

"Taniac went right after my troubles at once, and now, after taking only six bottles, I am a well woman. My appetite is simply fine, I eat just anything I want, and everything agrees with me perfectly. My kidneys never bother me, and the pains are all gone out of my back. I am entirely relieved of constipation, and do not know what it is to have a headache or become dizzy any more. My sleep does me a world of good, and I feel so well all the time my housework is actually a pleasure to me. Taniac has helped me so much I would just love to tell everybody about it, and I am always recommending it to others."

Taniac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, Druggist, and in Esquimalt by Lang's Drug Store. (Advt.)

Mothers' Day in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, May 10.—Mothers' Day was celebrated in many of the city churches yesterday with special services. Ministers made the usual appeal to sons and daughters living away from their parental home to write a letter to mother on this day.

PARIS, May 10.—Seven German Zeppelins have been seen going east over Warsaw, according to newspaper reports from the Polish capital, and it is believed they are going to Russia from Germany with military instructors.

Industrial Prosperity; How It Can Be Brought About

By Guy Manners

A man made a complete and exhaustive study of the entire North American Pacific Coast; its business concerns, their staff and personnel, its natural resources, manufacturing plants, harbors, shipping, shipbuilding facilities, mineral deposits, standing timber, agriculture, dairying, animal and poultry husbandry, etc., etc.

That portion of the Pacific Coast within the United States held the key to a new destiny, the destiny of a future mammoth empire of trans-Pacific trade, based upon the fabrication of natural resources so abundantly distributed along the two thousand miles of ocean shore line.

Not one man or business firm, not one combined human unit, in any of the States bordering on the Pacific Ocean, showed the slightest inclination to enter into direct competition with the manufacturing establishments of the East, or the Middle Western States, in an effort to convert their own raw material into the manufactured articles so insistently demanded by the Orient.

The man in question, who had gone over their territory very carefully, and whom they openly admitted to be a world-recognized authority on foreign trade, was astonished to view their absolute apathy and total indifference to the programme of Pacific Coast development.

They admitted that this man's advice was fundamentally sound, that his figures, gigantic as they were, were within the bounds of reason and legitimate profit, that the money needed to place the Pacific Coast upon a foundation of absolute independence of the East reposed in the safety vaults of their own institutions.

But they would not move, and they did not move; they took too long to think it over. The old spirit of '49 was no longer within them, they were not the adventurers that their fathers were, they were not the hard workers with a big, broad, creative vision, willing to become the pioneers in a new international field of industrial and manufacturing effort. They deliberately chose to amass a little wealth on the known, and to them, safe lines of least resistance.

What were these lines of least resistance? Becoming agents, commission brokers, middle men for the Eastern and Middle Western manufacturers, satisfied to play the sure thing business game.

They had forgotten their geography; they had paid no attention to the one big piece of economy, created in the building of the Panama Canal; their slow-moving brains had failed to keep pace with the times; they failed to realize that American manufactured cargoes were no longer shipped by rail to Seattle, San Francisco, Portland or Los Angeles, to be transhipped by Pacific ocean-going tonnage. Then they gradually awoke to another unpleasant phenomenon; they had little, if any, worth-while Pacific ocean-going tonnage.

In their apathy, in their lack of creative desire, they lost the key that would have opened the door to some future centuries of Oriental trade; they see it slipping past their ports, bound South to that narrow gut of water made by the hands of man, the Panama Canal.

The writer kept on with his investigations, meeting with commercial bodies, explaining to them the desperateness of their trade-getting situation. Several big commission firms moved from San Francisco to New York. A fourteen million dollar Oakland terminal proposition fell into the hands of politicians. There was a swift, disastrous business debacle up and down the entire Pacific Coast; they were caught in their own cul-de-sac, just the other side of an almost impassible mountain range.

There is not much genuine satisfaction in being able to say, "I told you so." The writer had been engaged by a half dozen Pacific Coast periodicals to go into the Orient, with the intention of creating trade relations between the Pacific Coast and the Orient. First, the writer demanded an exhaustive survey of Pacific Coast's ability to carry out so tremendous a programme.

That survey was not forthcoming. The Pacific Coast could compete with the East, but they would not. They chose to remain in their offices in the big coast cities and become the business backers of the Eastern American creative geniuses.

Today, Oriental demands are receiving attention from the British Isles; this paragraph is in answer to The Colonist's editorial anent "Britain the Mysterious." Britain's phenomenal success is due to the fact that she is willing to soil her skies with factory smoke, and more than willing to blacken her hands with the grime of honest toil. Britain is awake to the indisputable fact that world work is the necessary means of world rehabilitation. Unfortunately the Pacific Coast looks upon hard work as a speculation. The Pacific Coast cannot serve the Orient, nor be served by the Orient, unless it produces the necessities required by the Orient. Britain recognizes the Oriental field, and as rapidly as she can, she will invade that field with the sensible products of her factories.

The writer came to Victoria, back under the colors of his own national flag, on to an island that was reputed to be a warehouse of natural resources second to none on the entire Pacific Coast. The writer feels that he has not intentionally tried to occupy any false social or financial position in this community. When called upon on two or three occasions, he did what was requested of him, did it for the good of the community, for no pay and no notoriety.

The writer sees in Vancouver Island more than he witnessed upon the entire Pacific Coast of the United States. The same advantages in location to the Orient, only a bit better. Its climate, its metal and mineral resources, are of infinitely more value than those of any other spot on the North American continent. Its geographical situation, its harbors, its tremendous stand of timber, all indicate a new and powerful strategy. In the hands of wideawake people Victoria could be, within the short period of a decade, the Leeds, Clyde, Manchester and Pittsburg of the Dominion of Canada.

This city needs a thirty million dollar a year payroll. In creating such a payroll, the manufacture of steel, woolen and cotton goods would be engaged in. Steel ships and wooden ships can be built here as cheaply and expeditiously as anywhere; furniture, boots, shoes, glassware and pottery could be fabricated here at a tremendous profit to everybody.

Mr. Carter has sounded the dominant note. Self-complacency no longer is a civic asset. It does not pay city taxes, keep up overhead expenses, or pay for street and park improvements. A first-class golf player is of no economic value to a community that finds its real estate values depreciating. For every smoke stack created on this island a berth for an ocean liner will be demanded at the outer docks.

The Seattle Times unburdens itself of an editorial in which it scores Seattle and the federal government for not being awake to the dire necessity of a steel plant on the Pacific Coast. Some day that steel plant will come, and fortunate indeed will be the city owning and operating it. The editor of The Seattle Times rails at Seattleites for not being awake to the situation, and he pretends to see Vancouver doing her utmost to beat Victoria out of the stupendous money maker.

The writer disagrees with his American magazines. He does not intend giving or selling his brains in an effort to support fictitious markets. It's a joy to hunt about in the deep waters of world ports for the trade and barter of honest essentials; it's a crime to boost false values and false trade standards.

BLUE CROSS ERECT MEMORIAL FOUNTAIN

Tribute to Animals Which Suffered in Great War Placed at Douglas Street Gore

The public memorial fountain which was purchased last year by the Victoria branch of the Blue Cross has been erected at the corner of Douglas and Government Streets, on the site of the old fountain.

Owing to weather conditions, strikes, etc., some delay has been occasioned, but once delivered in Victoria, City Engineer Preston has not no time in putting the fountain in place.

The memorial, which has separate water supplies for people, horses and dogs, will bear the following inscription:

"A tribute to those animals which suffered and died for humanity in the Great War, 1914-1918. Erected by the Victoria branch of the Blue Cross, 1919."

It is interesting to note that a memorial fountain was erected in Japan to the horses killed in the Russo-Japanese War, 1904. The condition of horses in the South African War, 1899-1902, will go down in history as one of the most pitiful and tragic stories of animal suffering ever written. In memory of these heroes a memorial fountain was erected in Port Elizabeth, South Africa. It is of stone and depicts a cavalry horse drinking out of a pail held on the knee of a trooper.

Thanks to the efforts of many humanitarians the sufferings of animals in the Great European War were alleviated to some extent and memorials to the fallen are now being erected in various centres.

France is asking for a sum of $40,000 to purchase a suitable sculpture to be erected in Paris.

In the State House, Boston, Mass., a brass tablet is to be hung in memory of animals sacrificed in the late war.

Through the efforts of the late Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman, a fountain was placed in Dinsmore, B. C., last year.

The Local Council of Women, St. John, N. B., has selected a design exactly similar to the one now placed in Victoria, B. C.

In commemorating the faithful service of these fellow creatures, we honor ourselves, for by their patient service, bitter suffering and death they have given all that man may dwell in peace and they must therefore hold a graceful place in the memory of mankind.

ISLAND ROADS ARE REPORTED EXCELLENT

Highways Now in Fine Shape for Motorists—Preparing for Automobile Convention

Completing a motor trip over the Island and Canadian Highways, Secretary Harris, of the Island Automobile Association, has returned enthusiastic over the road conditions of the Island.

"No one but a natural grouch," says Mr. Harris, "would complain about the roads, and from personal observation it looks as though these are to be kept just this way all season, for one cannot travel far without encountering road men hard at work filling ruts and giving attention to those places in need of repair.

"Honestly, the Malahat is a boulevard," continued the secretary. "Never have I seen it in so excellent a condition, and this applies also to that section around Parksville. In fact, there are but few spots anywhere on the Island or Canadian Highway but what the motorist would not rave about. I did hear of a complaint about the Cowichan Lake road, and perhaps another side tour, but, generally speaking, we have much to be thankful for, and I do think it is up to the motorist here and up the Island to appreciate the work being done by the Provincial Public Works Department."

Both the Alberni district and that of Courtenay now boast five Automobile Clubs, and at the convention of the Automobile Associations of the Island to be held at Nanaimo in June, the Upper Island points will unquestionably receive attention they would not otherwise have had the motorists of these districts not been organized.

The Island now, says Secretary Harris, has its five districts organized in five Automobile Associations, each has its own officers, with its own affairs attended to by these officers. The president of each club is an honorary vice-president of the Island Automobile Association, with all members affiliated.

The convention in June will be the outstanding event in the motordom of the Island. Many prominent men of the motor world, as well as good road advocates, will attend. It is the hope of the Nanaimo Club that the affair will eclipse anything of a similar nature ever held in British Columbia.

BAKERS REFUSE TO DRAFT COMPROMISE

Cake and Bread Makers Stand With "Big Three" and Turn Down New Proposal From Strikers

The striking Bakers' Union attempted again last night to win over the Victoria and Island Cake and Bread Makers' Association by suggesting a compromise wage schedule, but the association remained firm in its support of the "Big Three" bakeries, pledged to open shop conditions.

The two parties conferred at considerable length at the board of Trade rooms, the strikers being represented by their business agent, Mr. Harry Jacques and several of his lieutenants. Most of the association members were present.

According to a statement given out after the conference by Secretary H. N. Fyrn, of the Cake and Bread Makers' Association, the strikers suggested that the association should submit an agreement for a new wage scale if cause of the former present rates, but a compromise of plans previously put forward. The association argued that an increased rate would mean an increase in the price of bread to the consumer and that the wages already paid were adequate. The association reasserted its intention, to stand out for open shop conditions with the "Big Three" organization, represented by Shelly Bros., Rennie & Taylor and D. W. Hanbury's Golden West Bakery.

According to Mr. Fyrn, the strikers admitted that some of their published statements had been exaggerated and they regretted having used sandwich-board propaganda. They are still determined to have their demands recognized and claim they can last out so long as the employers.

FROM BARTER TO COMMERCE

BY

SIR WILLIAM SCHOOLING, K.B.E.,

Author of

"The Hudson's Bay Company, 1670-1920."

THE change in character from primitive barter to modern commerce is perhaps less significant than the expansion of the operations of the Hudson's Bay Company during the past two hundred and fifty years.

The "Non-Such," a vessel of fifty tons, sailed for Hudson Bay in 1668. This was an event of momentous significance. Its cargo consisted of a few simple articles to be exchanged for furs.

During the years 1915-1919 the Hudson's Bay Company transported for various Governments goods in excess of 13,000,000 tons. In 1918 and 1919 the work was equivalent to unloading the contents of the "Non-Such" every seven minutes of the day and night for two years on end. The ships and cargoes sunk by submarines were valued at $125,000,000.

Of greater interest and importance is the huge trade of the Company's Stores in many Canadian Cities. To them may fitly be applied the words which a wise old Indian spoke to his tribesmen one hundred and sixty years ago: "There are traders . . . . . of the great lake yonder (Hudson Bay) who are never absent, neither in our time, nor in the time of our grandfathers and great-grandfathers. They are like the rock which cannot be moved, and they give good goods and plenty and are always the same. If you are wise you will go hence and deal with them."

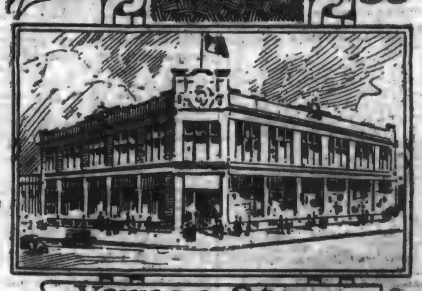

This sage counsel to the Indians in the eighteenth century applies no less to the people of Canada nearly two hundred years later.

The Cost of Education

Sir,—The cost of education continues to increase. At Victoria, B. C., the schools this year are costing much more than in 1919, and debt and education together consume about three-fourths of the city's revenue. At Vancouver, B. C., conditions are very similar, and the new scale of teachers' salaries, if adopted, will add nearly half a million dollars to the city's expenditure eventually.

These increases constrain us to ask Are the public schools worth the money that is spent on them? When we ask that question, most people turn to the inspector's report. They ask What does the inspector say about the schools? But I submit that this habit of considering the inspector's opinion is as though we asked a drill sergeant concerning the quality of an army. Is a drill sergeant the sole judge of an army's capabilities? Is a school inspector qualified to decide concerning the character of the present treatment of children?

We need to take a broader view of the matter than that of an inspector's report. For what purpose were the public schools established? They were instituted, presumably, to uplift and improve and benefit the whole body of human society in Europe and America and throughout the world. The purpose of the schools was to promote general prosperity.

Have they done that? We have now had more than fifty years of fairly strict scholastic education in Europe and America, and we may ask, Is the condition of the world today such as to suggest that the great scholastic experiment of the past fifty years has been satisfactory and beneficial?

Do I need to mention the havoc of the recent war; the huge debts of the various nations; the excessive cost of living; the graft in political affairs; the plagues of influenza and other diseases; the looseness of married life, the fierce struggle between capital and labor, and many other causes of trouble and perplexity at the present time? These things are well known to most people, yet they show the condition of modern society after more than fifty years of fairly strict scholastic education.

Anyone who criticises the public school system in this way is liable to be assailed as a friend of ignorance and illiteracy and an enemy of child-welfare. People ask: Would you rob the child of his birthright of education? But that reply begs the whole question. The quality of a tree is shown by its fruit, and we must ask whether the scholastic tree has yielded good fruit or the reverse. Illiteracy is certainly bad and dangerous, but any ordinary boy or girl can be taught to read fairly well by three months' tuition. Children have often been taught to read in that time. Therefore the illiteracy argument does not justify the present huge expenditure on the schools.

During the eighteenth century and the early part of the nineteenth, people attached most value to religious principle and moral rectitude as the basis of general prosperity. The opinion then was that "righteousness exalteth a nation." But during the nineteenth century this regard for religious principle was gradually set aside by the growth of greater admiration for secular education as the chief means of human improvement. Darwinism and other scholastic philosophers usurped the place of religion in the public favor. Now, we may ask whether that change was entirely beneficial. It is doubtful whether the present public school system is such an improvement on former methods as some people think it to be.

This subject is so vast that I cannot discuss it fully in a brief letter. The limitations of your space compel me to close. But I suggest that the troublesome state of human society in Europe and America today, after more than fifty years of fairly strict scholastic education, justifies us in asking whether the public school system is really worth the many millions of dollars that being expended on it.

Canadian Air Force

Sir,—Is it a sign of the times that no one is satisfied with what they have without clamoring for a second share before even the first has been received?

This might apply to some people as far as it concerns the new Canadian (Militia) Air Force, judging from the various criticisms that have appeared in the press recently. No doubt they voice the opinions of a certain section of the community who ought to know better than to take such a narrow view of a scheme which has been evolved in order to place Canada in one of the foremost positions in flying amongst the nations of the world.

We have the trained personnel in abundance, and the problem is obviously how to make use of it. Apparently a certain limited sum of money for the purpose has been voted by the Government, and the Air Board has put forward a scheme for the most efficient expenditure of same, which the former body has accepted. Now to ensure its success it is up to every flying man in the country to support it, or else valuable time will be lost and a similar opportunity may not be offered again.

To those who advocate a permanent air force I would ask them to consider the results obtainable from the same limited expenditure of money as for the militia force. With a month or six weeks' efficient training every two years under the latter there would be an approximate minimum turnover (allowing for delays for winter, etc.) of fifteen times; or in other words, for one squadron in a permanent force there would be fifteen squadrons of trained personnel in the militia force. The militia force would be continually moving on, vacancies being filled as soon as the man preceding had completed his training, so that the same accommodation and machines (except for extra wear and tear, upkeep, and more frequent replacements), and a staff and administration but slightly augmented, would suffice, and the overhead expense would be hardly increased at all, except chiefly for transportation.

At the present time the country is not disposed to spend more than a very few millions annually on an air force, and two or three permanent squadrons would be the utmost that could be kept up. In a permanent force pensions would begin early, as soon as pilots reached the age limit, and after a comparatively few years this alone would take a large sum. Then, again, the monotony of camp life would tell after a time, and efficiency would fall off unless provision could be made for frequent changes (additional heavy expense for more flying camps!).

What good would a mere two or three squadrons be to Canada in the next war emergency. They would have to be retained at home for a time to provide the personnel to train others, or else the country would be without any to follow on. The militia force will keep in training the large number of men who gained flying experience in the war.

On what experience do some "flying authorities" base their claim that a month's training in two years is inadequate? Given average weather and an efficient system, 40 to 50 hours in the air in that time could be put do, which ought to be sufficient for the average pilot who has been previously trained. Ground instruction in other lines would take up an important portion of the time. Obviously, later on, a more extensive course would have to be arranged for beginners.

The militia force will provide an adequate source of qualified pilots for the commercial services which are sure to develop on a large scale in the near future. A permanent force would not do this, and commercial development would be at a grave disadvantage on account of the heavy expense and delay incurred in training their own pilots. The provision that in obtaining a commercial pilot's license a man has to become a member of the militia air force is a good one in many ways, but chiefly because it will bar foreigners and keep the active side of commercial aviation in Canada in the hands of British subjects.

Let everyone interested drop their petty jealousies and opposition to a scheme that has been put forward honestly and with the best intentions, and everyone who can put in his application to help in making Canada's air policy a success. Faults will be found and rectified in due course, and possibly with experience new schemes may be put forward and adopted, but to ensure success now, support is necessary. Above all, British Columbia must keep up with the other Provinces of Canada in the progress of flying, and some of her flying men (of a Vancouver organization) are not going the right way about it by sitting back and criticising the Air Board, more through motives of jealousy than by common sense.

Elk Lake Watershed

Sir,—Please allow me to offer my congratulation upon your editorial on the above subject that appeared in your paper of the 5th inst.

It is refreshing to find you advocating a policy for the benefit of the community outside of Victoria.

Those wh are acquainted with the Saanich Peninsula are assured of her future: with an irrigation scheme it can be made the garden of Canada.

Competent engineering authority has estimated 10,000 acres in North Saanich can be irrigated from Elk Lake without mechanical power; it has been publicly stated by Prof. L. Stevenson that with irrigation five acres can be made to produce what fifty acres is doing without. The prosperity of Saanich and Victoria cannot be separated. It would be deplorable if Victoria parted with such a valuable asset to herself and her neighbors.

Spiritualism

Sir,—May I have the privilege of reminding your readers that the Bible clearly teaches that these communicating spirits who impersonate our loved ones who have died are really deceiving, lying spirits; that they are those angels who fell from their first estate, mentioned in Genesis vi and in Jude. God commanded the Jews to have nothing whatever to do with them.

We do not place much confidence in one we know to be a liar and a deceiver, even though he may sometimes tell the truth. It seems strange that anyone who really believes the Bible, and understands its teaching on this subject can suppose that one who has been turned out of heaven for disobedience could bring a message from heaven.

Manual Training in High School

Sir,—I see by The Colonist of the 7th inst. that Mr. W. H. Binns, supervisor of manual training and instructor in technical education, etc., has outlined a basis for a four-year course of technical work. Among his recommendations, we are told, are the following: "Ordinary High School Course—manual training and domestic science, first two years, half day. Commercial Course—manual training and domestic science, half day."

Does this mean that all first and second year high school students in both these courses are to have one half day a week of manual training or domestic science forced upon them, in addition to the multitudinous other subjects they are now compelled to take in the high school course?

Already there is so much in the High School course that only the brightest students can master it, while yearly hundreds—I use the word advisedly—are driven out of the High School discouraged, robbed of an education, because they cannot master the work that has to be crowded into the year. For the same reason many students leave our commercial course and go to the business schools down town because in these schools they can get just the branches they need and are not compelled to take anything else. Now it is proposed to absorb half a day of each week with these extras and to cram still more into the already too full ordinary course. With the work that has to be covered some classes are now meeting half an hour earlier in the morning and some half an hour or more later in the afternoon. Now it is proposed to rob the pupils of half a day a week for these frills. Who wants these things? Who has asked for them? All the high school students have had several years' instruction in both manual training and domestic science in the public schools. What was wrong with the instruction there that it has to be repeated or continued in the High School?

With all respect to Mr. Binns, I claim he is not the one to say what should be taught in a High School. He has had no experience in High School work, and as his activities have been largely confined to manual training work he is very likely to magnify his own specialty, and is scarcely in a position to take a broad view of what should constitute a High School course.

As already stated, some classes are now meeting before school in the morning and some after hours in the afternoon. If the extras keep on coming a few years longer the regular High School work will have to be done in the dead hours of the night. Some day the worm will turn.

Duke of Abruzzi Investigating Commercial Possibilities of Colony in East of the Dark Continent

ROME, May 10.—Arctic exploration and shooting the savage polar bear has no allurement at present for the Duke of the Abruzzi, who is now engaged in the equally scientific, if less hazardous, task of investigating the commercial and agricultural possibilities of the Benadir Colony, East Africa, with a view to making it a source of income for Italy, and even eventually of rendering that country independent of other nations for her supplies of cotton and cereals.

The Duke, in addition, intends to explore the sources of the Uebi Scebel River, which, rising in the high plateau of Hauar, toward Abyssinia, passed through the Italian colonies to the sea, and, it is believed, can easily be rendered navigable for small boats, besides being invaluable as a source of irrigation for the extensive agricultural enterprises which the Duke hopes to initiate in Benadir.

The first news has just arrived of the expedition, which started last December from Mogadiscio. Active work has already been done of the winds, the climate and the rainfall of the country. Engineer Agostinelli, who is accompanying the expedition, and who has done considerable work on the rivers and canals of the Lower Piave, considers that it will be comparatively easy to utilise the waters of the Uebi Scebel for a system of canals to irrigate that part of the colony which now suffers from drought which will more than quadruple its productive power.

The Duke of the Abruzzi, with the experts who have accompanied him, are setting up two big experimental farms where it will be demonstrated what immense harvests of cotton, dourra, sugar and coffee can be obtained in this country through irrigation, a system of intensive culture and the use of modern agricultural machines.

The ex-German cargo boat, now called the Carlo Pisacane, which brought news of the expedition, also carried a large shipment of dourra from the colony, a grain which resembles maize and can be used together with ordinary flour, for bread. It has also been proved that the breeding of cattle in Benadir can be greatly increased so that supplies can be sent to Italy of meat and hides.

All this work is being done, it is announced, entirely at the expense of the Duke, who desires that Italy's colonies should be developed, and hopes that similar work may be started in Lybia and Cyrenaica.

LAUNCH CRUSADE TO CLEAN MILK SUPPLY

Health Committee to Report on Need for By-Law Providing for Prosecutions Against Vendors of Dirty Product

The City Council last night launched a crusade against the sale of dirty milk in Victoria.

Medical Health Officer Arthur G. Price reported that 24 samples of milk tested had been clean, three fairly clean and three dirty.

"What happens to the people who sell this dirty milk?" asked Ald. Joseph Patrick. "Does this report end it all? Is no action taken to ensure that the milk supply is kept clean?"

Ald. Albert Johns, chairman of the Health Committee, explained the method of making tests of milk to determine sediment content, and stated that the city had no by-law enabling prosecutions against dairies selling dirty milk.

"If we have no such by-law, isn't it time that we had one?" asked Ald. Patrick. "It is up to Ald. Johns and the Health Committee to get busy and bring in a by-law covering this. By all means let us have clean milk."

On motion of Ald. W. J. Sargent the matter was referred to the Health Committee for report.

Ald. Johns said that monthly reports on milk tests were published in the newspapers and it had been hoped that this publicity would improve conditions. Ald. Sangster contended that the advertisements should be larger.

PREFER B.C. SPRUCE FOR SCANDINAVIA

Experts From Norway Satisfied With Seed Specimens Found at Queen Charlotte Islands

British Columbia spruce is preferred to Californian by the Norwegian and Swedish foresters who have been visiting this Continent recently for the purpose of selecting seed. This was reported at the meeting last night of the Natural History Society. Two experts from the European countries, discovering by prepared charts that Queen Charlotte Islands enjoyed very much the same climatic conditions as Norway, went there recently to examine the conifers, and found the ideal tree. They were very astonished, however, by its immense stature, and are puzzled now as to the means of getting down the seed from the selected specimens which have been chosen. One of these gentlemen was in Victoria recently and enjoyed an expedition with Mr. Charteris Pemberton.

The meeting last night discussed at some length the successful "field meet" which was held last Saturday afternoon at Mrs. McVicker's place at Prospect Lake. About twenty of the members enjoyed the outing, and explored the interesting grounds, which are planted with native wild-flowers, shrubs, etc., no less than 124 varieties in all being counted. Of these, with the exception of nine, Mrs. McVicker had the names. Two of the nine were christened appropriately by members of the Society. There still remain seven unclassed. So many varieties of flora might have led the natural historians to expect something interesting in the way of fauna, but the sole creature discovered was a squirrel, representative of all the other squirrels on Vancouver Island, which has but one kind.

Discussion of singing birds occupied part of the time of the meeting. Mr. Grimes reported having seen a skylark; Mr. W. H. Kelly, the president, reported a humming-bird. Flowers were among the specimens brought in. A freak erythronium (dogtooth lily), with three flowers instead of four, was reported, and a fritillary (chocolate flower), with five blooms.

The success of the new industry recently established on Mayne Island for the fishing of mudsharks was referred to, and the new leather, which is one of the products of this undertaking, was reported to be quite satisfactory.

AGED WOMEN'S HOME HAD STRENUOUS YEAR

Rising Prices and Increased Number of Inmates Remarked at Annual Meeting Held Last Week

During the past year the work of the committee for the Aged and Infirm Women's Home, which held the annual meeting last week, was very strenuous, not only on account of the rising prices of everything necessary for the maintenance of the Home, but because of the larger number of helpless people who have had to be cared for. Great difficulty in procuring help was also experienced.

Report of President

Mrs. Clay, the president, presented the following annual report:

The year through which we have passed, with its world-wide unrest, has not left our Home, its staff, or its Committee of Management, untouched by, at least, the spray of the surging disquiet. We have had our own anxieties, but through them all we have come without serious mishap.

The Home has been fuller this year than in any previous period of its existence. This necessitated, of course, additions to our staff, and the increased cost of every commodity purchased made necessary a corresponding increase in the salary of every one of our employees and put an unusual strain on our financial resources, but partly by means of an increase in our rate the balance sheet of our treasurer will show that our financial standing is unimpaired.

With a number of women applying for admission to the Home and our capacity taken up, the committee must see, not very far ahead, the serious problem of adding to our accommodation.

The committee is fortunate in being able to retain the services of Miss Walkron, our efficient matron. Her work, always trying and exacting, has been rendered doubly so this year by the difficulty of securing competent help. At present our staff is complete and I am glad to say the members of it are giving satisfactory service.

From the members of the committee, who know the complexity of the matron's duties and the incessant demands made upon her strength, skill and patience by the care of so large a number of elderly women, she has sympathy and support in her arduous task; but I may be permitted to request those not so well acquainted with affairs in the Home to be good enough to judge the efforts of all who serve the institution and its inmates in the light of full knowledge and of that patient remembrance of what our loved ones demand of us.

Mild Criticism

Recently the Home was made the subject of a mild criticism in the public press. The strictures, while not severe, were evidently based on imperfect knowledge; and the secretary, through the same medium, answered the attack. Moreover, the committee invited certain ladies who had voiced similar criticisms to come to the Home and by making their complaints to the full committee, help us to rectify any condition that needed improvement. Two disputed our invitation and mentioned only one specific case of seeming neglect, which, on investigation, was found to be baseless.

The usual services have been carried on by the Ministerial Association and Salvation Army. These services have been well attended and much enjoyed. The Young Peoples' Societies of the First Baptist, the Emmanuel Baptist, First Presbyterian, First Congregational, Metropolitan Methodist Churches, and the Girls' Club, have given entertainments from time to time, which have been much appreciated and have afforded the inmates a great deal of pleasure. During the Prince's stay in the city he very kindly paid a visit to the Home when he learned that there were a number of old ladies there who were very anxious to see him, and who were not able to get out. Needless to say, his visit was much appreciated.

In conclusion, I would emphasize the fact that the Home is an incorporated institution, and that it is not in receipt of any public grant, but is dependent for maintenance on the board money received from the inmates.

Hearty Thanks

The thanks of the committee are gratefully tendered to the many kind friends who have in various ways remembered the Home, and have brought cheer and comfort to the sick and suffering.

We are painfully aware that some matters in the Home are capable of improvement. What private home of even the small membership has reached the stage where improvement is impossible? The members are anxious that every comfort and happiness may be given to their elder sisters. For this purpose alone the committee exists. The Home is open to visitors at all reasonable hours. We invite all interested to avail themselves of this privilege, not only of seeing the building and its equipment, but especially of brightening the lives of those who, after all possible has been done for them, have not too much of life's sunshine. Intelligent criticism and kindly suggestion will always be gladly received.

Our thanks are due to many kind friends in town and country who, as in past years, have generously aided us in our work.

Secretary's Report

The secretary's report is as follows:

During the year twenty-four entered the Home. Several stayed only a few months, some to recuperate after illness, others for a short time while their daughters were having holidays. The total number cared for during the year was eighty-two. The greatest number at any time was sixty-one, when the Home was filled to its capacity. The average per month was fifty-six. Within the twelve months there were seven deaths of inmates who had been sick for a long time prior to their decease.

Managing Committee

The committee remains the same as last year, except for the addition of Miss O'Brien, who represents the Roman Catholic Church, in place of the late Miss McDowell. The committee at present is composed of eleven ladies representing the different month at the Home. A committee of three, who serve for three months at a time, one retiring every month and another taking her place, have the management of the Home during the month. Twelve regular meetings have been held during the year, all of which have been well attended. All applications for admission should be made to the secretary-treasurer.

CALL FOR EMPLOYEES STILL CONTINUES

Report of Provincial Government Bureau Shows Vacancies at Logging Camps, Lumber Mills, Etc.

The Employment Service of Canada, Provincial Government office, corner Langley and Broughton Streets, reports for week ending May 8, that the call for employees out of town still continues. The unfilled vacancies are mostly in logging camps, lumber mills, coal and quartz mines and railroad construction camps. The contractors for the latter work are offering 50 cents per hour and guaranteeing one year's work to the employee.

The local or city situation is improving each week, the demand in this case being mostly for men registered in the building and construction trades.

The Limberg shipping have employed in their yard to date 197 employees, 43 of whom are returned soldiers and 64 civilians. Other placements are as follows:

Agricultural, placed 1; building, 5; commercial, 2; domestic and personal, 2; laboring, general, 32; lumbering, 6; metal trades, 1; manufacturing vehicles, 11; quarrying and mining, 1; shipping, 2; miscellaneous, 1; casual jobs, 28.

Women's Branch

The week showed, as usual, a greater number of vacancies than applicants for work. On the whole the vacancies are in the domestic line, with a considerable demand for waitresses, pantry women, second cooks and kitchen women in the summer hotels of the Island and Mainland.

The summer hotel work is one which proves attractive to many unemployed women, and there are still positions available in this work.

During the week there were 28 applicants for work and 58 vacancies registered. Of the 39 applicants for work, 14 were placed in permanent positions.

There are still more good chair-women registered than can be kept busy every day. During the week there were 24 idle days reported, of which 23 were filled in response to 23 vacancies reported.

BANKING AND FARMING

Continuing its educational programme, the Victoria Farmers' Institute is bringing Mr. Roche, manager of the Merchants' Bank at Mission, BP Co. to address a meeting at Cedar Hill on Friday night, the subject of his address to be "The Relation Between Banking and Farming Rural Credits." The meeting will be held in the Temperance Hall, Cedar Hill Crossroad, and will commence at 8 o'clock.

C. P. R. SITUATION STILL UNCHANGED

Capt. Troup Reports Service as Usual and No Further Quitting Notices In—Prince Rupert Lays Up

"The situation remains unchanged. The service is being maintained as usual. Tomorrow the Princess Adelaide, which has been overhauled here, will go into service and the Princess Royal will move into her present berth to have her passenger accommodation enlarged."

In these words, Capt. Troup, manager of the B. C. Coast Steamship Services, summed up the strike situation as it affects the C.P.R.

Capt. Troup stated that no further men had given notice of their intention to quit.

Advices from Vancouver state that the Stewards' Union announces that its men will leave the ships of the Union Steamship, G.T.P., and C.P.R. boats today. It will be remembered that the C.P.R. succeeded in operating its ships without them last year when the strike took place.

The Grand Trunk steamer Prince Rupert is laid up at Vancouver, having succeeded in making the trip to Victoria and Seattle after arriving from the North. When the Rupert arrived here on Sunday morning from Vancouver she had no firemen on board, they having given notice in the North. The engineers did the firing around the triangle route, and the ship laid up when she returned to Vancouver. The Prince George will reach Vancouver tonight from the North.

The Canadian Merchant Service Guild has decided on the attitude the masters and mates shall assume. It will be that of onlookers. They will participate with neither party to the dispute. The following resolution regarding passenger ships has been passed, and notification given to interested parties:

"The masters and mates are recommended to attend to their regular duties as such, and further will see to the navigation of ships from port to port and look after mails and passengers only; but that it will be up to the company to have further work done on ships or in connection with driving winches or otherwise handling freight or baggage."

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners are herewith notified that the red conical buoy marking the edge of Roberts Bank, Strait of Georgia, has disappeared.

The steamship Leebro has placed a new buoy to mark the position, and the Agent of Marine, Victoria, B.C., would appreciate any information from mariners regarding the location of the drifting buoy.

REPAIRING ALASKAN

The Pacific Salvage Company's steamer Alaskan, which went ashore in False Creek a short time ago, is now undergoing repairs at Yarrow's plant, Esquimalt. The boat has been recaulked and considerably strengthened. She is a wooden vessel of many years' service. The Alaskan is expected to be back in Victoria Harbor within a day or so.

STILL AT YARROW'S

The C.N.R. car ferry Canora is still at Yarrow's, Esquimalt, undergoing overhaul. She is out of drydock and lying alongside the Yarrow dock. Work is being done in the engine-room.

AT STATION TONIGHT

The Katori Maru will reach William Head before midnight tonight, according to a wireless message received from the Japanese liner yesterday. She will come alongside the Outer Docks about 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning. The boat left Yokohama a day behind schedule, which prevented her making port today.

Respond in Trouble

The local tug Respond lost a scow in the Gulf on Sunday. The steamer Jefferson reported it adrift and yesterday morning the salvage steamer Algerine went out to remove it from the path of navigation and bring it to port. Before reaching the scene the Algerine was informed that the scow had been taken in tow by another ship and taken to Vancouver. The Respond is now at Vancouver. One report is that she was towed in by the C. P. R. freighter Methven. Capt. Gardner, owner of the tug, was unable to ascertain the facts here and he left for Vancouver yesterday afternoon. Another report current on the waterfront is that the scow was cut adrift to save the tug. The scow was adrift five miles northwest of Active Pass when located by the Jefferson.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish High Water from Low Water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower Low Water.

Brings Sugar and Steel

VANCOUVER, May 10.—Advices were received today by B. W. Greer & Company, agents for the Isthmian Line, that the big steel steamer Bantu, en route from New York to this port with a full cargo, has passed Colon and will be in port on May 27. The ship is picking up a big shipment of sugar at Cuba for the B. C. Sugar Refinery and has a quantity of steel from New York for local shipyards.

Women Give Enthusiastic Welcome to Beauty of New Patterns in Simmons Beds

Now in the Stores—the First Metal Beds Ever Designed in Harmony with Interior Decoration Today. Old-established House of Simmons Limited, Strengthens its Commanding Position as Leading Producers of Metal Beds

NO woman who sees these beautiful beds will wonder at the way they are being received.

Every day goes further to confirm the initiative of Simmons Limited in producing metal bed designs based on the sound principles of line, form and composition—such as the "Colonial," illustrated above.

This Simmons idea of putting real design into metal beds is just the latest example of initiative that has expanded Simmons Limited from one small plant twenty-five years ago to one of the great Canadian industries today.

It was Simmons Limited that first thought of sleep in relation to metal beds.

That led to the Simmons Patented Pressed Steel Corner Lock—the lock that holds the bed together firm, like one piece of metal—the lock that prevents squeak and rattle and makes the bed noiseless, inviting relaxation and deep repose.

They have consistently advocated the Twin Bed principle.

They have invented Springs, too, that yield evenly to the contours of the body—always resilient and elastic.

For example—

"Waldorf" Box Spring—Composed of finest oil-tempered double cone spirals, mounted on a frame of seasoned hardwood and upholstered with heavy layers of white cotton felt. Covered with attractive ticking. Finished with roll edge. A spring that really does give freely to all the contours of the body, yet supports the spine in any sleeping position.

Now this latest achievement—good design in metal beds—involves also the invention of a truly seamless tubing.

You know how it is with the old-fashioned metal beds. The tubing always has a seam running the full length of the tube. It is likely to be rough—does not take the enamel nicely.

When you see these new Simmons Beds, notice especially the tubing—its exquisite finish, free from seam and roughness—and how beautifully it takes the enamel.

YOU will find them in the leading stores—and with them some very charming Brass Beds and Children's Cribs—built for sleep, by Simmons Limited.

Prices of Simmons Beds are little, if any, higher than those of ordinary beds. If you have any trouble finding them we shall be glad to send you the names of Simmons merchants near your home.

Sleep is a big subject. Write us for the booklet, "What Leading Medical Journals and Health Magazines Say About Separate Beds and Sound Sleep." Free of charge.

TIE-UP OF STEAMERS IS STILL EXTENDING

Stewards Arrange to Lay Down Duties This Morning—Firemen on Fishing Vessels Also Walk Out

VANCOUVER, May 10.—New developments in the coastwise strike include the extension of the strike of the firemen to include the vessels of the New England Fish Company and the Canadian Fishing Company, and a walkout of stewards, scheduled to go into effect Tuesday morning.

The latter affects only C.P.R. boats, as all G.T.P. and Union Steamship Company boats are either laid up or will be, on their return to Vancouver, as a result of the strike of the firemen and seamen.

The fish companies will make no attempt to operate, but will tie up their boats as they arrive in Vancouver, according to statements of company officials, this being due to the fact that the vessels have been running at a loss during the past several weeks. The Imbrecaria, which arrived in port this morning, was the first fishing boat to be affected.

The G.T.P. steamer Prince Rupert did not make her northern trip tonight and will be tied up. The Prince George is due in tomorrow afternoon from Stewart, and if she is not able to proceed to Seattle and Victoria, will be laid up.

The Northern Coast will be given a ten-day service by the C.P.R. steamer Princess Mary, which will include Prince Rupert and Anyox on her Skagway run.

Quite willing at any time for the appointment of a board of conciliation to go into their differences with the C.P.R., the Union Steamship Company and the Grand Trunk Coast Service, the B. C. Coast Stewards claim, through their representative, Fred Walsh, secretary of the union, that their strike, which is called for Tuesday, is distinct from that of the firemen and seamen, and to have been brought on by the refusal of the companies to negotiate with them in any way.

In a statement tonight it is said that the whole matter is one of wages and living conditions.

Canada's Merchant Marine

OTTAWA, May 10.—Before the end of the month eight more vessels will have been added to the Canadian Government merchant marine, increasing the number of ships built and actually delivered to 34. By the end of the fiscal year, it is said at the Marine Department, the shipbuilding programme will be practically complete.

S.S. Canadian Prospector

VANCOUVER, May 10.—The steel steamer, Canadian Prospector, 8,100 tons, being completed at the Coughlan Shipyards for the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, is due to go on berth for Australia by May 20. The date for her trial trip is not set, but it is expected to be May 18.

Chilkoot Can Scoot

VANCOUVER, May 10.—A knot and a half better than the contract speed was the performance of the steamer Chilkoot on her trials Saturday. The ship is a steel vessel of 3,000 deadweight tons, built for a freight carrier by the Wallace Shipyards Co. for the Union Steamship Co.

Longshoremen Returning

SEATTLE, May 10.—More and larger crowds of longshoremen were reported by the Seattle Waterfront Employers' Union to be working today on deep sea terminals. Many college students worked Saturday and Sunday and were replaced today by fresh non-union men.

EASTERNERS APPEAL ON TELEPHONE RATES

OTTAWA, May 10.—The appeal of Toronto, Montreal and Hamilton and a score or more of Ontario and Quebec municipalities against a ruling of the railway commission increasing Bell Telephone rates was heard today before the Cabinet Council. The ruling permitted an increase in charge rates of 10 per cent, the increase to take effect from June 1, 1919. The appeal was heard by Honorables Sir George Foster, C. J. Doherty, Dr. Reid, A. L. Sifton, Dr. Tolmie, N. W. Rowell, Senator Robertson, Hugh Guthrie and Martin Burrell.

G. R. Geary, K.C., Toronto, said the Railway Board had given judgment without any particular evidence to support the figures which it had adopted. He said the company had for thirty years paid its 8 per cent dividend, had met its charges, and he cited a reserve of nearly $12,000,000 carried for a plant of a book value of $42,000,000.

Reliable Ignition Unit No. 8216

Wise boat owners always connect up a Reliable Ignition Unit No. 8216 with their engines. They know from experience that the Reliable No. 8216 won't go dead—even when the engine is bucking a sea.

The Reliable No. 8216 is crafted just like your boat. It is powered with the well known Reliable No. 6 Batteries, which are sealed in pitch and placed in a strong waterproof case.

The Reliable No. 8216 is ready for service when received. It does not lose power when not in use and is proof against internal short circuits. Just connect it up with your engine—the Reliable No. 8216 will do the rest. To be on the safe side put an extra No. 8216 in your locker.

Ask your dealer for the Reliable No. 6 Ignition Battery and the Reliable Flashlight. You'll find many uses for them aboard.

MARKET GROWS DULL AFTER EARLY ACTIVITY

Stock Advance Movement Halts in Late Part of Session—Oil Stocks Favorably Affected by Higher Prices

NEW YORK, May 10.—The stock market was moderately active and strong at the outset of today's dealings, scoring additional gains before noon, but lapsed into a dull tone before the close.

Early improvement was generally ascribed to the stronger bank position disclosed by Saturday's statements of the clearing house association and the local Federal Reserve Bank. Other week-end advices also seemed encouraging to the constructive side of the market.

As the session progressed it became evident that trading again lacked the elements of bullish leadership, save for the operations of pools; with the first indications of pressure prices fell away as easily as they had risen.

Traders were not in accord regarding latest aspects of the Mexican situation, the conflict of opinion finding reflection in the heaviness of Mexican oils as against the relative strength of European issues, notably Royal Dutch, which made a new high record.

Sales amounted to 850,000 shares.

Oils dominated the day as a group, however, their activity being based upon favorable trade conditions. An advance of 1½c a gallon was announced by one of the largest refineries, while producers in the Middle West ordered another upward revision of prices for crude and refined products.

Call money was freely offered at 7 per cent, going to 8 on an unexpectedly large demand in the last hour, but closing at the lower quotation.

Bonds were irregular and featureless, aside from their easier trend, this also applying to Liberty issues. Total sales, par value, $16,150,000. Old U. S. bonds unchanged on call.

CANADIANS' TRADE WITH UNITED STATES

American Business Has Felt Effect of Movement Intended to Decrease Canada's Purchases Across Border

NEW YORK, May 10.—(By Canadian Press.)—Since Canada is the second best customer of the United States, the best being Great Britain, United States business men have been paying close attention to the movement recently inaugurated in the Dominion to increase trade with the Mother Country with a view to regulating exchange conditions between Canada and the United States. The movement has been in the direction of limiting Canadian purchases from United States business houses so that the adverse balance of trade reflected in the depreciation of the Canadian dollar in exchange may be corrected.

Observers on this side of the international boundary line admit that United States business has already felt the effects of the Canadian campaign, although probably not to the extent its promoters anticipated. In many lines Canadian imports of United States goods have declined, but this is believed to be due, at least in part, to the adverse exchange rate itself, and not to the movement to correct that rate.

United States business men who have given their views on the subject to the Canadian Press express the opinion that the campaign in Canada, like the adverse exchange rate itself, will be a purely temporary affair. When the causes that have operated to bring about the exchange conditions are removed, Canadian-United States trade will, they say, flow back into its normal channels, which are too well established, and geographically inevitable to be abandoned.

The possibility of a restoration of the former business relations between Canada and Great Britain, to the detriment of United States manufacturers, does not appear to be seriously considered here. It is argued, for one thing, that Great Britain will be unable to supply the Canadian demand for goods, as her factories are unable to take care of the domestic needs. The increase in Canadian imports from Great Britain is regarded here as normal trade readjustment following war conditions.

The result of the adverse exchange rate against Canada in the United States market is seen in statistics of Canadian-United States trade for the seven months ending at the close of January, which reveal a decline in purchases from the United States. As an indication of the present trend it may be expected that a substantial decrease will be reflected in the next report with a corresponding increase in Canadian importations from Great Britain.

According to the monthly summary of foreign commerce (Washington) Canada bought goods to the value of $483,159,230 from the United States during the seven months ending January of this year, as against $562,472,957 for the corresponding period ending January, 1919. Canada's sales to the United States for these periods were $319,016,730 and $292,490,855, respectively. Thus the excess of imports over exports representing Canada's adverse balance of trade with the United States in the seven months ending January, 1920, was $162,142,500, as against $249,982,112 for the same period ending January, 1919, a reduction of about $90,000,000.

In spite, however, of the shifting balance, Canada is shown as being still the second greatest buyer in the United States market. Great Britain is an easy first, and France a close third. In the seven months ending January, 1920, Canada bought twice as much goods from the United States as the whole of South America.

Tenderers should state the amount of cash bonus they are prepared to pay in one sum over and above dues at the rate of $1 per M. ft. b.m. or $1 per cord, such dues being payable as the timber is cut.

Twelve years will be allowed for the removal of the timber under the Regulations of the Department, and a sworn return of the timber cut each season shall be furnished by a qualified scaler.

The Reserve is under lease for coal-mining purposes, but such lease does not convey any rights with respect to the cutting of timber. It must, however, be agreed by the successful tenderer that his lumbering operations shall not conflict with those of the coal lessees.

An accepted cheque on any Canadian chartered bank for ten per cent of the amount of bonus tendered should accompany each tender, which in the event of failure to carry out the undertaking shall be forfeited to the Department. The balance of bonus tendered must be paid within thirty days from the date of notification of acceptance of tender.

Any further information that is desired together with plan of the reserve and copy of the regulations may be obtained from the undersigned or from Mr. W. E. Ditchburn, Chief Inspector, Victoria, B.C.

OLYMPIC GOLF DATE CANNOT BE CHANGED

American Request Made Impossible by German Army's Damage to the Links at Antwerp

NEW YORK, May 10.—Because of damage caused by the German armies it will be impossible to have the Antwerp links ready for the Olympic tournament before July 12, according to word received today from Belgium by W. D. Vanderpool, secretary of the United States Golf Association. The association had requested that the date be advanced.

Vanderpool has entered the following golfers for the amateur championship of Great Britain to be held at Muirfield, Scotland, June 7: Nelson Whitney, Samuel J. Graham, Stewart Stickney, Findlay S. Douglas, F. C. Newton, H. W. Maxwell, Jr., and Robert A. Gardner.

N. L. U. ORGANIZES

Gave Him a Pain

LONDON, May 10.—A Scotch golf enthusiast who was too polite to make a face-to-face protest against another player's objectionable manners, but too aggrieved to remain silent, recently inserted this advertisement in the "agony columns" of several London newspapers:

"Would the individual with the handicap of eighteen and the large voice, who hacks his way around a certain suburban course, reflect that his golfing adventures do not interest other members to the extent he would think?"

Boys' Baseball League

There will be a meeting of representatives of the Sunday School Basketball League tomorrow night at the Y.M.C.A. at 7:30 p.m.

Every class of boys from twelve to fourteen and from fifteen to seventeen is urgently asked to send representatives. Plans will be made to organize baseball among 'teen age boys.

Evers to Giants

TROY, N.Y., May 10.—John J. Evers has signed up as assistant manager of the New York Giants, it was announced last night.

WESTERN SUPPORTERS OF GOVERNMENT MEET

OTTAWA, May 10.—Western supporters of the Government in caucus today practically decided to favor the principle of continuing the Canadian wheat board. Members who represent large farming constituencies contended that as the Federal Government was buying on a co-operative or controlled basis, the only safe course was for the farmers of Canada, through the Government, to adopt a similar course.

Another matter taken up today was the plea of rural postmasters and mail carriers for increased pay. A committee was appointed to take the matter up with the Government.

The Western men also discussed their attitude in regard to budget matters, particularly in respect to the method of raising additional revenue during the coming year. While the excise tax is strongly favored, those most in favor of it now express some doubt on its being adopted to any great extent this year. Tariff reduction, natural resources and income tax were also discussed at some length today.

VANCOUVER, May 10.—Soon Gin Bong, of Vancouver, has commenced a libel action against the publishers of The New Republic, a Chinese paper published in Victoria. The alleged libels were published on May 2, 3, 4 and 5, 1920.

ported Ald. Sargent contended that in view of the fact that Mr. McDiarmid has worked against the City of Victoria in eight legal cases since 1914, he is not the proper counsel for the union, which embraces Victoria as its largest individual member. One member of the Council, Ald. Johns, went so far as to say that Mr. McDiarmid was a "menace to Victoria so long as he was in a position to do the city injury."

The other factions in the Council, headed by Ald. Todd, held that Mr. McDiarmid should not be made "the goat" for the sins of the union, and recited instances where the union had failed to serve the city's interests.

The lineup in favor of the Sargent resolution, which was put up as an amendment to a motion by Ald. Todd that the Council "decline to rejoin" the union, was as follows:

Ayes: Aldermen Cameron, Sargent, Patrick, Fullerton, Johns, Dewar and the Mayor.

Nays: Aldermen Todd, Andros, Sangster and Dinsdale.

Ald. Todd, in introducing the issue for discussion, simply moved that the Council decline to rejoin the union.

Ald. Patrick seemed surprised that Ald. Todd, after his efforts to secure information on the subject, had not produced any reasons to back up his proposal. He knew of instances where the city had derived certain benefits from membership in the union.

"Name them," asked Ald. Todd.

Strength in Union.

"In union there is strength," returned Ald. Patrick. "You can laugh at that, but you cannot change stubborn facts. A union would have more force than an individual municipality. The point is the absurdity of employing a solicitor for the union who has fought this city in at least eight cases since 1914. To my mind it would be better to withdraw from the union than to pay a man having that many cases against the city. That is my reason for opposing affiliation with the union, and the only one."

Ald. Sangster seconded Ald. Todd's motion, saying that he had never seen any benefit to Victoria from the union. He also saw strength in Ald. Patrick's reason.

Although favoring a break with the union as a result of the retention of Mr. McDiarmid, Ald. Sangster, in submitting his amendment, described Ald. Todd's plan as a "peculiar assault," and he recalled the enthusiasm shown by Ald. Todd when he was Mayor respecting matters pertaining to the union. "This simply would lead to stirring up strife with our neighbors, and we cannot afford to quarrel," said the alderman. "We have, however, a perfectly bona fide complaint and we should base our action on that. It is an unusual thing for a community of interests to be advised by one who is acting against one of those interests, especially when service to the interests of the whole is imperative."

Ald. Sargent instanced the church taxation case and said that if Mr. McDiarmid won there would be general turmoil and every municipality in the Province would be assailed.

Ald. Patrick seconded Ald. Sangster's motion, the text of which follows:

The Resolution.

"That the Union of B. C. Municipalities be informed that, whereas the solicitor of the union at one time held the position of solicitor for this city and since has pleaded in the courts on several occasions against the city, and about a year ago was engaged for the St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Church here to prevent by means of the courts the Council from collecting the taxes levied against that property, which action looks towards the annulment of all church property taxes in all the municipalities of the Province, that these conditions were made plain at the convention in North Vancouver last October by the representatives of Victoria at said convention, and, in face of such knowledge the said solicitor was re-engaged, as a municipality within the Province this Council claims it is improper for a solicitor to represent it as a solicitor for the union and to act against it as solicitor for any party who is seeking to disturb the taxation of the Province as in the St. Andrew's case, and that while such unseemly conditions obtain this Council is of the opinion Victoria should absent itself from the activities of the union."

Ald. Todd, proceeding to show how Victoria's claims had been persistently ignored by the union, said that the boast of Ald. Sargent that the Victoria delegates to the convention last year had their own way was misleading. He said that the delegates' work had been of a negative and not a positive nature, because they simply undid the harm done over the protest of Victoria at a previous convention. "We should not make Mr. McDiarmid the goat for the sins of this union," admonished Ald. Todd, and he went on to say that an attempt had been made to "railroad" the new Municipal Act through the Penticton convention despite the protest of Victoria, which would have been the largest city affected by the legislation. He added that Victoria had been ignored in the selection of a committee to work out the details of the bill.

"Happy-Go-Lucky Body."

Ald. Todd claimed that the union was not an incorporated society; in fact, it was a "happy-go-lucky sort of an organization," not truly representative, and inclined to give more power than justified to small municipalities.

"Going too far," was the comment on Ald. Todd's proposal voiced by Ald. Fullerton, who endorsed the Sargent plan, however.

Ald. Sargent, in a speech tinged with irony, said that the arguments of Ald. Todd were worthy of "very small school children," and he pointed out that the union was not responsible for the proposed Municipal Act; that the Government was the sponsor and still had hopes of establishing a local government board.

Ald. Johns admitted that conditions were unsatisfactory, but he wanted to give the union a chance to alter them before starting a war with other municipalities. "This man is a menace in the position where he can injure us," declared the alderman, referring to Mr. McDiarmid.

The Mayor was opposed to straining relations with the municipalities, and he said that their interests were identical; but he did not like the idea of engaging an enemy as counsellor.

The vote was then taken, with the result outlined.
